THE CORNELLY CASE

The Latest Move in This Important Suit.

A NEW TRIAL ASKED FOR

Nine Reasons Set Forth By the Defense Why a New Trial Should Be Granted.

WILL BE ARGUED IN OCTOBER

On Saturday Hugh S. Taylor and A. O. Furst, attorneys for James Cornelly recently convicted of arson filed their reasons why the defendent should have a new trial. The argument in this case will probably not be heard before the October term of court, The following are the reasons set forth by the defense.

And now August 28th, 1897 defendants move for a new trial by leave of Court, and file the following reasons therefore, asking leave to file any additional reasons upon the filing of the charge of the court and the testimony and offers and rejection of evidence:

1st. The court erred in the charge to the jury in saying that in their opinion the reputation of A. W. Gillespee, the detective, was not successfully impeached, this remark being made by the court being made toward the close of the charge after the review of the testimony.

2ND. The court erred in rejecting the offer to prove by the defendent when on the stand as a witness in the cause, that his relations to the prosecutor, the owner of the armory, were friendly; and that he had no motive and could have none, either of malevolence, spite or revenge to induce him to burn the building or set fire to the same.

3RD. The court erred in refusing to permit counsel to ask the defendant when on the stand what his relations were to Co, "B" occupying the said building as an armory. Both of these offers having been made for the purpose of rebutting the fact that there could be an inducement on the defendants part to set fire to the building, and thereby show the improbability of the alleged fact of burning by defendant.

4TH. The court erred in not permitting defendant when on the stand as a witness, both upon examination in chief and in cross-examination, to refer to memoranda that he had after his arrest, in which he had upon full investigation. written out where he had been, and what he had done on each successive day from the time that Gillespee had come to Bellefonte, for the purpose of refreshing his memory. This offer was made not for the purpose of offering the memoranda in evidence, but as an aid to his memory, in refreshing the same that he might identify the occurrences of the several days which were made important by the examination of Gillespee. Gillespee when on the stand, refreshed his memory by written data to which he referred, without having shown when or where the same were made.

5TH. The court erred in reading to the jury the case in —Pa., upon the subject of the testimony of witnesses bearing upon good character, who had stated that they had never heard the reputation of the person impeached discussed, thereby placing more weight upon negative testimony of a like number of witnesses who had stated that they had heard his reputation discussed by many person, and that the same was bad for truth and veracity. The court should have called the attention of the jury as well to the positive as the negative testimony. The charge of the court to the jury was inadequate and not a full presentation of the evidence on the part of the defendant, and especially was this so in a case of such grave character, and involving such severe punishment.

6TH. The evidence was insufficient to convict.

7TH. The court referred in the charge to various witnesses corroborating Gillespee the detective, whereas there was not a single witness corroborated him in relation to the facts concerning the armory fire. These witnesses were those who came after the alarm of fire had been given, and came in pursuance thereof; and the fact that the defendant who lived at that time upon the diagonal corner from the armory was there, was not evidence in itself of guilt, and the court should so have said to the jury.

8TH. This case having been tried in Bellefonte, where the alleged various burnings took place, and the defendant having been arrested for the same, a deep seated prejudice existed in the minds of the people and invaded the court room; and the court should therefore have carefully and fully reviewed the evidence in the charge to the jury on the part of the defendant as well as upon the part of the commonwealth, so that prejudice should not in any manner influence the verdict.

9.TH. The court erred in permmitting the commonwealth to stand aside jurors under the objection of the defendant the full jury having been first called into the box.

HON. CHESTER MUNSON.

Death Removes One of Philipsburg's Oldest, Most Enterprising and Beloved Citizens.

We are indebted to the Philipsburg Daily Journal for the following particulars of the death of Judge Munson.

Hon. Chester Munson, ex-associate judge of Centre county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. J. Lee, on South Centre street, this city, at 10 o'clock last night. The direct cause of his death resulted from a cancerous affection on his lower lip, which started about one year ago as a slight cold blister or sore which became irritated and developed into the disease, which caused his death.

Judge Munson was born at Great Bend, Pa., June 1, 1815, and was therefore aged 82 years, 2 months and 28 days.

He came from English ancestry. His great grandfather came to America before the Revelutionary war. The grandfather served as a soldier in the struggle for our liberties. Mr. Munson's father Almond, was born in Connecticut. The father removed to Great Bend, where the subject of this sketch was born. He came from a hardy, honest and industrious ancestry, characteristic of New England stock. Mr. Munson was married to Miss Letitia McClellan on January 11, 1844. Five children were the result of this union, viz. Richard, Edward, James Hale, Mrs. Gertrude, Ann Lingle and Mrs. Carrie Bowman Lee, all of this city, one daughter, Ellen, having died when young. Mrs. Munson preceded him to the eternal world two years ago, after passing the 51st anniversary of their married life.

He came to this place in 1844 and engaged in the millwright business, also in lumbering and farming and merchandising. During a period of over 50 years he has been largely identified with the lumbering business of Philipsburg and its vicinity. He was the founder of the town of Munson, on the Beech Creek R. R. He at different periods of his life controlled large lumber, land and coal interests in this community. He was a man of commanding appearance, and was often spoken of by those who visited the county courts during his incumbency as associate judge as being one of the most stately officials that has ever graced the judicial bench of our county.

He was a charter member of Moshannon Lodge No. 391 F. and A. Y. M. and occupied positions of trust many years in the same. He was also a charter member of Moshannon Commandery and its treasurer at the time of his death.

Besides his sons and daughters named above who survive are two brothers, Edward and David Munson, of Susquehanna, Pa. The bereaved friends may rest assured that they have the sympathy of the entire community in the deep sorrow through which they have been called to pass.

The funeral, took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. T. J. Lee, with whom he has resided since the death of his wife, two years ago, was in charge of Moshannon Lodge No. 391. The religious services was conducted by Rev. Dr. Clerc, assisted by Rev. T. L. Tomkinson.

Jackson, Hastings & Co.

The old banking firm of Jackson, Crider & Hastings has been dissolved and a new firm takes its place. The new firm will be composed of George W. Jackson, Governor D. H. Hastings, H. C. McCormick and J. Henry Cochran, the two latter of Williamsport, Mr. Crider retiring from the firm. Mr. Jackson, upon whose shoulders falls the chief management of the business, has had years of experience and is an old and tried banker. His past achievements have been of the highest order and we bespeak for him continued success. He is conscientious and honest in all his dealings, and with the prestige of Gov. Hastings at his back the future of this banking firm should be very bright. We wish the new firm much success.

MR. HARRITY SUBMERGED

At the Same Time He Gives Advice as to His Defeat.

DEFIES THE POPOCRATIC MEETING

Is Losing No Sleep Over Being Thrown Out By the Meeting at Reading Yesterday—Jones to Be the Referee, Etc.

CALM BUT STILL READY FOR WAR

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. Aug. 31.—William F. Harrity is here with his family and expects to spend a couple of weeks at the seashore. In speaking of the action of the Reading convention, Mr. Harrity said:

"I am not greatly disappointed at the outcome. From the beginning the contest was made to assume such a shape that very many of those who participated in the meetings of the committee and the convention mistakenly supposed that it was one in which the democratic party was arrayed upon the one side and myself upon the other. Under the circumstances, the minority vote cast was very gratifying. I have had the support of 36 out of 79 members of the state central committee present at the meetings; and that of 134 out of 424 delegates in attendance at the convention, is, indeed, a great compliment. Personally, I feel grateful to all those who opposed the radical and reactionary policy of the men now influential in the democratic organization in Pennsylvania, and I have no resentments for those who voted otherwise in the belief that their duty to the party required them to do so. Of course I thoroughly understand that the minority stood for a conservative policy that would have had a tendency to unite the party, rather than for me personally, and I honor them the more for it."

"The venom displayed by some of the extremists has not annoyed or disturbed me in the least. When I recall that during the campaign of last year the names of such democrats as William C. Whitney and David B. Hill were hissed in meetings held in Tammany hall because of their refusal to acquiesce in all of the declarations of the Chicago convention I find it quite easy to be philosophical over the situation."

Continuing, Mr. Harrity said:

"The action of the committee and of the convention is to be regarded as a disapproval of my refusal to believe in the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. But it will not change my opinion in that respect. As when I wrote to Chairman James K. Jones in reply to his letter, so now I believe in the platform of principles enunciated by the Allentown convention of 1896, as declaring sound democratic doctrine. In my judgment the time is not far distant when the democracy of Pennsylvania will recede from its present position. It must be so if it desires to win victories in Pennsylvania."

"What of your position in the democratic national committee? What is the effect upon it of the action taken at the Reading convention?" was asked of Mr. Harrity.

"That will be a matter for the democratic national committee itself, which is the only body authorized to act in the premises. I will dispute the right of any claimant to membership in it from Pennsylvania until the committee itself has passed upon the subject."

Death at Pine Glenn.

On the 19h, inst., death entered the home of William Bowes and took from it a loving wife and mother. Mrs. Bowes had not been in good health for several years but had greatly improved until about twenty-four hours before her death, and had just returned from a visit with friends in Moshannon. The cause of her death, was heart failure. There are left to mourn her loss a husband and two children, Rhoda E. and Elmer L., both of whom are still at home and single. Deceased was aged 49 years, 2 months and 24 days. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Rishel. The remains were interred in Askey cemetery

Appendicitis.

In view of the many unsuccessful operations and the extravagant tendencies of the late fad for opening the abdominal cavity for every pretext in the case of the so-called appendicitis, the following well stated, if not timely enough, from the renowned Dr. Pepper, of Philadelphia, will be satisfactory, if not cheerful reading to many people who have been led to believe in the almost certain fatality of appendix troubles. He says in the Medical Agriculture: "In appendicitis twenty cases to one are cured without an operation."

Col. Wm. Shortlidge in the Republican Convention at Harrisburg.

The Pittsburg Dispatch announces:

"A REFORMER'S RESOLUTION HURRIEDLY CHOKED OFF!"

"He Wanted Gov. Hastings' Vetoes Indorsed and the Legislature which Passed the Measures Condemned!"

"Early in the game William Shortlidge, of Centre county, an old man with fatherly white whiskers, gave the machine men a painful shock by offering the following resolutions, which were smothered by the Platform Committee, of which Senator Penrose was chairman and Messrs. Flinn and Magee members:

"Resolved, That this convention unequivocally indorses the action of Governor Hastings in vetoing the bills passed by the late Legislature commonly called the Becker bill, the Mercantile Tax bill and the Simon bill, and the illegal and dishonest appropriations for sundry legislative investigating committees, said appropriations bearing upon their face the stamp of unvarnished fraud upon the tax-payers of this Commonwealth."

"THE LEGISLATURE CONDEMNED."

"Resolved, That we strongly condemn the action of the Legislature for passing these dishonest measures and for ignoring or making a farce of the various reform measures urged and promised by the last two State Conventions."

"Before Mr. Shortlidge got in his resolutions Penrose had one passed to have all State platform planks referred to the committee without debate. Shortlidge claimed Elkin ignored him when he addressed the Chair. A motion was made to reconsider the Penrose resolution, but when the delegates saw what Shortlidge had up his sleeve, they refused."

In further explanation of the above proceedings we publish the following, which has been furnished us by Mr. Shortlidge, who was instructed by our County convention to vote for Levi G. McCauley for Auditor General and James S. Beacom for State Treasurer. He carried out these instructions to the letter. In the other proceedings of the convention he acted in harmony with The Business Men's Republican League of the State of Pennsylvania—an organization that is thoroughly Republican in principles, whose object is to improve the condition of the Republican party and work within the party lines, for the purpose of securing the nomination of the best men as candidates for public offices and to harmonize the working of public officials with the best interests of all the people. They do not go outside of the Republican party to accomplish these results. They propose to do the work within party lines and show the Republicans at large that "machine politics" is an element in the party that must be eliminated, or the party will disintegrate at periods in the future as it has done in the past, and the good results that have been accomplished by those who are Republicans from principle and not spoilsmen, will be lost, to the detriment of all the people:

TO THE REPUBLICAN,

Bellefonte, Pa.:

I was a delegate to the late Republican convention of Pennsylvania, representing Centre county. After I arrived at Harrisburg on Wednesday, I visited the headquarters of the Business Men's Republican League, of which League I am a member. I learned that two representatives of the newspapers of our state had made known to the League that it was reported that the platform to be adopted by the coming convention had been put in form, and that the plank referring to Gov. Daniel H. Hastings' Administration would treat him indifferently and put him on an equality with the acts of the late Legisture. We could not find anybody who was willing to confirm this rumor or deny its authenticity. To be prepared for the emergency, the Executive committee of the Business Men's League prepared two resolutions and selected me to introduce the same in the convention. We were well aware that the machine is equal to any emergency which may arise in a Pennsylvania State convention, which may be derogatory to their best interests. They are in a position to strangle every resolution offered, hence it required some parliamentary tactics to counteract the practice of the machine on their own ground. It is the custom for the proposed Chairman on Resolutions, as soon as the temporary organization shall have been made, to make a motion to appoint a Committee on Platform; and it has been the custom, as soon as this motion shall have been adopted, for some other delegate to offer a resolution to refer all resolutions offered in the convention, without debate, to the Committee on Platform or Resolutions, as well as to prevent the reading thereof. Of course, I was taken by surprise, when Senator Penrose made a motion to appoint a Committee on Platform or Resolutions and "that all resolutions offered shall be referred to the Committee on Resolutions without debate." Immediately after this motion, and, perhaps, before it was seconded, I arose and said: "Mr. President, I move to amend the motion, that the Committee be instructed to report to this convention the following resolutions, and ask the same to be read," which was promptly seconded by Omar Fisher, of Clinton Co. Mr. Elkins declined to recognize me. I made the motion before he put the question and I insisted on being heard; that I had made the motion in due season; that I was entitled to be heard and, therefore, not willing to yield. When Mr. Elkins put the motion of Mr. Penrose he did not look over the audience, as is the custom of an impartial presiding officer; but he cast his eyes down, and it was doubtful if he could have seen anybody beyond the platform on which he was standing during that proceeding. There was a large number of persons desired a reconsideration of the motion, for the purpose of admitting my motion to amend Mr. Penrose's motion, which caused some confusion; nevertheless, the resolutions were read by Reading Clerk Jerry Rex, who read the first resolution with his usual force, but when he came the second resolution it seemed to effect either his vision or his voice, and he did not read with as much force as he did the first. I was a member of the Committee on Platform or Resolutions, representing the 34th Senatorial district, and after the reading of the same I was then convinced that the rumor concerning the plank relating to the administration of Gov. Daniel H. Hastings had not been correctly reported, and it was more favorable to him, so much so, that I did not feel it necessary to urge the adoption of the resolutions that I had offered in the beginning. The resolution or plank in the platform referring to the Legislature did not meet my views, nevertheless, I did not offer any amendment, because the majority in favor of adopting it as a whole would have decided against me.

Of course, the machine must have anticipated some act derogatory to its practice, for the clerks persisted in calling me Shortridge and published my name Shortridge. Evidently, they wanted the delegate's name, who offered that resolution, sunk into obscurity, or treated as a myth, after adjournment of the convention. The Executive Committee of the Business Men's League accomplished all they expected to accomplish when I succeeded in having the resolutions read, as follows: (Resolutions are published above).

From the feeling expressed and indicated, during the few moments that these resolutions were under discussion, I was fully convinced that there is a very large element of Republicans who attend State conventions and who are opposed to the tactics carried out by machine methods. They are in favor of free speech, and a free interchange of opinion in conventions, which the stereotyped resolution "to refer all resolutions to the Committee without debate" is intended to deny. The machine is afraid to face criticism of its wrong doings. It is not consistent, because the resolution does not express its real meaning. To make myself better understood, I suggest an amendment to this resolution and recommend to chairman Elkins to have it read in place at the next State convention, as follows:

WHEREAS, For the purpose of promoting and perpetuating machine rule, within the Republican party of Pennsylvania, as well as suppress free discussion in its conventions or criticising of machine methods, as well as other short comings of the Republican party, dictated by machine rule, be it

Resolved, That all resolutions offered in this convention shall be referred to the committee on Platform or resolutions without debate or reading of the same.

This would be consistent with machine methods and would take the mask from and expose the real intent and meaning of the usual stereotyped resolutions to refer, etc. all of which is respectfully submitted to chairman Elkins and the machine politicians for their favorable consideration.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM SHORTLIDGE.

The following are the planks in the platform adopted in the convention, in lieu of Mr. Shortlidge's resolutions. They commend Governor Daniel H. Hastings for his faithful honest and economical administration of state affairs and indorse his watchfulness of the people's interests.

STATE AND MUNICIPAL REFORM.

We again declare ourselves in favor of the needed reforms in State and municipal governments, the purification of elections, and the free exercise of the elective franchise, which were advocated in the State platforms of 1895 and 1896.

While expressing the thanks of the Republican party to the recent Legislature for its passage of several acts looking to such reforms, we emphasize our regret that other measures, having for their purpose the betterment of State and municipal governments, failed of passage by reason of the active opposition of Democratic legislators and the non-support of a sufficient number of Republican members to insure their success.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Young Jim Bailey Badly Burned with Gasoline.]

Thursday morning young Jim Bailey son of David Bailey met with a narrow escape from a horrible death. He often does odd chores around the store of John Sourbeck, the green grocer, and about ten o'clock in the morning he was sent up to Mr. Sourbecks house with the wagon to bring a peanut roaster down to the store. In some way the roaster upset on the way down spilling gasoline over the bed of the wagon and on young Bailey's clothes. While Mr. Sourbeck and Jake Barlet were carrying the roaster into the store, Jim very thoughtlessly struck a match intending to burn the gasoline off the bed of the wagon and not thinking about it being on his clothes. Almost instantley he was enveloped in flames. For a minute everyone seemed to be panic stricken and no one stirred to assist the boy, until finally John Wagner rushed up and seizing the boy at the risk of burning himself threw him down and tore the burning clothes from his body. This was done none to soon either, for in another minute the boy would have been terribly burned. His escape from death seems to have been miraculous for had he inhaled any of the fumes of the gasoline, it would have surely been fatal to him.

The promptness of Mr. Wagner saved the boys life and he escape with only a slight singing. His hair was singed and his body slightly burned. The inside of his nostrils were also burned.

CORNELLY IS GUILTY.

Of Attempting to Fire the Reynolds Armory.

SO SAY A JURY OF HIS PEERS

Acquitted of Setting Fire to the Electric Light Station—Eloquent Closing Address By Judge Furst and Col. W. F. Reeder.

IMPARTIAL CHARGE BY JUDGE LOVE

Never since the trials of Alfred Andrews and Seely Hopkins has there been so much interest shown in a case in court as is now being manifested in the trial of James Cornelly, the alleged incendiary. Whether he is guilty or not guilty is the all absorbing question which at present agitates the minds of the people of Bellefonte.

At Wednesday afternoon's session the court room was packed to overflowing, many standing.

The grand jury returned a true bill against Cornelly on three indictments charging him with setting fire to the Electric Light Station, Armory and Court House. It is on the first two that he is now on trial.

The jury being sworn District Attorney Singer arose and made the opening address to the jury. He stated that the Commonwealth hoped to prove beyond any reasonable doubt the guilt of the defendant. While their evidence is mostly circumstantial, still it would be very conclusive. He also read the law in such cases.

The first witness called for the prosecution was Frank C. Williams, superintendent of the Electric Light plant. He said he resided in Bellefonte; has been superintendent of Electric Light works for two years; works were destroyed by fire on the 8th of April. He then described the Electric Light building and office. Fire originated in the stock room fronting on Lamb street. He quit work the evening before the fire at 5:30 o'clock. Faxon and Dusendorf were in charge that night; Faxon is the engineer and Dusendorf the fireman; did not return until the fire whistle sounded; there was nothing of a combustible character in the stock room at that time.

Cross-examined by Judge Furst. He said: I was at home when fire started; reside on Spring street about 300 feet from Lamb street; fire occurred at 12:15; was asleep when the whistle blew; whistle blew about one minute; when I reached the scene the stock room was all ablaze, but there was no fire in the roof; it took me about three minutes to get there after the whistle blew; the stock room is lighted by electricity; there is one lamp near the window and one in the centre of the room; the electric light wires come in over the engine room; there were fifty people there when I got there and the fire companies had arrived on the scene; it was a cloudy night to my recollection and the street lights had gone out when I got there; we keep our waste that we have used in the pump room in a tin can with a shut spring lid; never had any wires ignite within 600 feet of the building; am positive it did not catch from exposed wires as we look them over every day and would have noticed any that were uncovered.

S. D. Ray called: Residence Bellefonte; surveyor by occupation; made a draft of Electric Light works and Armory and surroundings. The draft was offered in evidence. The scale of this was 25 feet to the inch. The draft was explained in all its details to the jury and thus they were made familiar with the different points.

Joseph Lose called: Reside in Bellefonte, on Spring street; live in Tate property, next to gas house; am an electrician, employed by the Electric Light company; repair the lights and wires; have access to all parts of the works; keep stock in small room facing on Lamb street, next to office; one window in stock room, facing on Lamb. He showed on map where office and stock room were.

His evidence was similar to and corroborative of Supt. Williams.

The night of the fire in the Armory he was among the first to get there and said that the only ones there were Jim Cornelly and Wm. Waddle.

Cross-examined: Said two windows open into the engine room from the street, one into stock room and one into office. Explained the number of lights in the different rooms; there was a large light at the Central railroad.

The object of these questions on the part of the defense was to show that it was very light around there and that a person could hardly have set the building on fire without being seen.

Thomas Faxon called: Reside in Bellefonte; am engineer at Electric Light works; was on duty night of fire; employed at this plant twelve years; had access to all rooms; kept all waste in pump room; I was in pump room and smelled smoke; thought I had a hot journal; ran in, but found everything all right; looked at the indicator and it was all right; if there had been any wires burning it would have shown it. I then ran back to the pump room and from there front to Lamb street; saw the smoke coming out windows; sounded the whistle and shut down the engine; in a few minutes the whole interior was ablaze.

Cross-examined. He said: I did not look at the indicator after I smelled the smoke; did not tell Charlie Kurtz that it was ten minutes from the time I smelled smoke until I blew the whistle; spend most of my time in the engine room; cannot see everyone passing from any part of engine room.

Mrs. Alfred Chandler called.—Live opposite the electric light works in Bellefonte. Lived there on the 8th of April, the time of the electric light fire. I am married and live with my husband. Emanuel Shope lives with us. I noticed light at railroad station go out. I looked over to the station, saw smoke coming out of the stock room; then I heard the whistle blow. I dressed and ran down stairs; then began carrying things out of my house. Was up that night with a sick child. Never had a talk with Vernes the detective. Montgomery subpoenaed me.

Emanuel Shope called.— Live in Bellefonte and board at Chandlers on Lamb street. Had just retired when whistle blew. Went out on side porch, saw fire in stock room at works. Saw James Cornelly run down past the electric light works. I am sure it was Cornelly. Had a frock coat and cap on. I know Cornelly. I first saw him in front of McGarvey's house on Lamb street.

Cross-examined.—I saw Cornelly after I saw the fire. Have talked with Vernes. Was subpoenaed by Montgomery. Had a talk with Vernes at the Brant House.

Miss Mary Butts called.—Reside in Bellefonte. On the night of the 7th of April I was at the residence of Jonathan Harper. There was a house party there. Fire at electric light works that night. Miss Lulu Harper and Jennie were up at the time. I heard the alarm; ran out on back porch. Saw smoke coming out of second window from the lower end of works. Then cried fire. When I first came out I saw a man in front of the station, near where the smoke was coming out. He was in the middle of the road. He was standing still; did not give any alarm. Finally ran up Lamb street. We named him Jimmy Cornelius. Lulu and Jennie saw him.

Cross-examined.—Question: Do you swear it was Jimmy Cornelly? Answer: We all thought it was Jimmy Cornelly. It was 200 feet from the fire where we were. It was a dark night. Did not see anyone else there at that time.

Jennie Harper.—Partly corroborative of Miss Butts' testimony. Saw man who looked like Cornelly. I heard breaking glass before the whistle blew.

Cross-examined.—Said she would not swear positively it was Cornelly but thought so. Shortly after I saw Cornelly I saw another man run up the street. Must have been 2 minutes later. We were pretty badly frightened.

Lottie Spigelmyer.—Corroborative of previous testimony. But did not know who the man was.

Jerome Harper.—Unimportant evidence, not cross examined.

Daniel Cowher.—Live in Bellefonte, work at steam heat works; was working there on the 7th of April, on night turn. There was a vacant house next to works. Jimmy Cornelly and Paddy Toner occupied a room there. Cornelly works at steam heat works. Came in that night about 10 o'clock. I was firing the boilers when the whistle blew. Cornelly was not there. He had went out somewhere. When I heard the alarm I ran out; I saw the blaze at the works and ran down. I turned around and ran back, met Cornelly then. No one else there then. Cornelly was in the middle of road.

Cross-examined.—When I first ran down I passed the works stopped in the street, then ran back. I was in my shirt sleeves and had a cap on. Q.—Do you think Cornelly had time enough to set fire to that building while he was absent from you? Objected to by Prosecution and sustained by court. It was about nine minutes from the time Cornelly left until the whistle blew. It was all aflame through the inside when I reached there. Jimmie was in his shirt sleeves when he left the works. When I met him coming to the fire he had gum boots on I was the first man to the fire.

Wm. Clark called.—Work at steam heat works. Corroberated the evidence of Daniel Cowher partly. Was one the first to reach the armory fire. The glass in the door was broken. I saw the flame. There was some waste in a tin can which was on fire. I got a bucket and threw some water on the fire. Two others came and threw water on fire.

Wm. Barnes.—Reside in Bellefonte on the west side of Spring street, on the corner of the alley and Spring street. I am a member of the Logan fire company. Soon as I heard the alarm I ran out. Did not see Cornelly when I reached the fire. There were quite a number of people there. The interior was all ablaze.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Court called promptly at 9 o'clock with Judges Love and Faulkner on the bench. There was a great deal of confusion yesterday afternoon and court ordered that none but members of the bar, witnesses and those interested in the trial should be allowed in the bar.

Miss Lottie Spigelmyer was recalled. She stated that she saw a man in front of the electric light works after the whistle blew. Had coat and cap on; also gum boots on. Cross-examined she stated that she did not see anyone else. The lights had not gone out when I saw this man. Q.—Who first mentioned James Cornelly's name as being the party you saw. A.—I don't remember.

Homer Barnes was then called.—Reside in Bellefonte on North Spring street. I recall the night of the electric light fire. It was about 12:15. When I heard the alarm I went to the fire. I met Jim Cornelley near the Humes house corner of Spring and Lamb. He was going up the street towards the steam heat works. There was no one else there. I could not tell how he was dressed. On cross-examination he said:—I did not speak to him. Did not see Danny Cowher or Pat Toner. He was running away from the fire. It was after the whistle blew.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds was then called. He is the owner of the armory. Value property at $25,000. The fire there occurred about 21st of May. Then followed a description of the fire. On cross-examination he stated that he was not there the night of the fire.

Charles F. Cook wes then called. Am treasurer of the Edison electric light company. Value plant at about $50,000.

Wm. Desendorf was the next witness. Am fireman at the electric light station. Was on duty night of fire at armory. I went to the fire and saw Cornelly there. Afterwards Waddle and Joe Lose and Clark came. He then described the fire and the manner in which it was set on fire. I saw the waste in an oil can. The glass was broken in the door. I am acquainted with Gillespee. He gave the alarm.

Cross-examined.—I saw Gillespee about 12:15; again about an hour and a half before the fire. Did not see him again until he turned in the alarm.

Wm. Waddle testified that he was one of the first at the fire. Cornelly came up behind me. Joseph Lose came afterwards.

A. W Gillespee, the star witness for the prosecution, was next called. Judge Furst arose and requested that the other detective, Mr. Vernes, be requested to retire. The court said it could not compel him to do so. Vernes voluntarily retired to the other side of the room. Gillespee said:—I gave the alarm at the armory fire. It broke out about 2:30. The way I discovered the fire was I was shadowing the Cornelly house on the corner across from the armory. I had been shadowing house for several nights. Started to shadow that house that night about 12 o'clock. I saw Cornelly come out of the alley above his house. He was carrying something in his hand. I watched him go towards armory and disappear along the side. Then I heard the sound of breaking glass. Then a short time afterwards I saw a flash. Cornelly then came out and ran up to his house and disappeared. I ran down, saw the fire, went on down to the electric light station and gave the alarm. Then came back; saw Cornelly there. I often met Cornelly before that time. Cornelly told me that the electric light works would no sooner be rebuilt than it would burn down again. The more fires we have the more it helps the poor man. I told him I would like to see a big blaze. He said if I stayed here long enough I would see one. He was cross-examined at length in a very thorough manner by ex-Judge Furst. He said:—I am a detective in the employ of the Perkins agency of Pittsburg; came here on the 15th of April; I met Jim Cornelly on the 16th of April; had whiskey with me; have to use it sometimes; did not get Cornelly drunk that day; would have if I could; got him drunk on the Monday after I came.

The witness admitted that his purpose was to get Cornelly drunk and then pump him.

Q. Do you know Daisy Heverly? A.—I do. Q.—How did you come to meet her? A.—A young man by the name of Ed. Rine, who keeps a cigar store near the depot, took me out there.

The Court objected to this questioning, but Judge Furst said the importance of it would be manifest later.

A. resumed.—Also visited several dances at Coleville with Mr. Rine. I was alone with Cornelly when I had these conversations with him. The time he told me that if I staid long enough in Bellefonte I would see a big blaze, I told him I would like to see a big blaze; he was pretty drunk when he told me this; my real name is Gillespee, but while here I travelled under the name of Frank Stewart; am 19 years old.

Judge Furst asked Gillespee point blank if he himself did not set this Armory on fire. Gillespee positively denied this, and said he was not in the habit of doing that.

A letter was shown Gillespee and he was asked if he wrote it. Another

A PIONEER SHOEMAKER.

WORKING AT HIS TRADE ALTHOUGH EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OLD.

Mr. James McMillen, of Champaign, Has Followed the Shoemaker's Trade All His Life—Every Day at His Bench Working with Apparently the Same Vigor as a Young Man—A Sketch of His Life.

From the Gazette Champaign, Ill.

At the advanced age of eighty-five years, James McMillen, of 112 West Washington street, is one of the most active men in Champaign, Illinois. Mr. McMillen is a pioneer citizen of the city, and his form is as familiar on the streets as that of any citizen of the town. All his life Mr. McMillen has followed the trade of shoemaker, and every day finds him at his bench, bending over his work with apparently the same vigor he commanded when he was a young man.

He has a little shop on North Wright street, in the vicinity of the University of Illinois, and he is the official shoemaker, as it were, for the students of that institution.

About a year ago Mr. McMillen was absent from his bench for several weeks, and his familiar form was missed along the streets. The local newspapers announced that he was dangerously ill. For months he was a sufferer, but finally he appeared again at his shop, and has lost but very few days since then and none, perhaps, on account of sickness. His friends were surprised to see him out again, and they were more surprised when he told them the cause of his recovery.

There was no small amount of local interest in his case, and a reporter visited him, to have him relate the story.

"I feel," said the spry old gentleman, "that I owe my life to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Something like a year ago it appeared to me that I was almost a physical wreck. I was suffering from a disease of the kidneys. A thick scurf had formed on the bottoms of my feet and my ankles were terribly swollen and inflamed. In fact, they reached such a condition that I could not walk, and it looked as though my days were numbered.

"I read in the newspaper testimonials from people who claimed to have been cured of kidney trouble by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and thought that it would do me no harm to give them a trial. I bought a box of them at the drug store and began taking them according to directions. It may seem strange, but it is a fact that I felt the benefit of them almost as soon as I began to take them. After I had taken a few pills my urinal discharges became almost as black as tar and I noticed at the same time that the pain and soreness were leaving my kidneys.

"A few days later the swelling began to go out of my ankles, and at the end of five weeks it had entirely disappeared, taking with it that terrible scurf which had formed on the bottoms of my feet and caused me so much trouble. I continued to gather my lost strength, and at the end of six weeks I felt entirely recovered and resumed my work at the shop. I think I took from four to five boxes of the pills and have taken none since."

Mr. McMillen's residence on West Washington street, is more than a mile distant from his shop, but nearly every day he walks the entire distance, morning and evening, and he could not do this if that swelling still existed.

Mr. McMillen has no backwardness in talking of the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

A Physician's Tribute

To the Benefits Received From Dr. Miles' NEW HEART CURE.

HEART DISEASE is curable. It is not surprising that all cases are not cured, since no physician has made the heart a special study for a quarter of a century as Dr. Miles has done. The following tribute from a physician will be read with interest. "For six years prior to taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure my wife was a terrible sufferer from heart disease. She had a constant fluttering of the heart and severe palpitation and pain in the left side. She took three bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and was completely restored to health, and has not taken a drop of medicine during the past two years. Under these circumstances I cannot do otherwise than recommend it to others."

GRAND ARMY IN RETREAT,

The Veterans Are Now Leaving the City of Buffalo.

"HOME SWEET HOME," THE SONG

A Senior Vice Commander Was Elected Yesterday as Were Also Other Officers—Reception of Various Reports.

THE QUESTION OF TEXT BOOKS

BUFFALO, N. Y. August 27.—Night finds the Grand Army in retreat from Buffalo. The encampment of 1897 is over and its comrades are leaving town as fast as the cars can carry them. Band after band, followed by weary men trudging to the railroad stations, passed down the streets at intervals during the evening. "Home Sweet Home" was the usual selection, and the crowds which still fill the streets shouted good-bye after the departing comrades. The last function on the long programme of events was a reception of the officers and chairman of the women's citizens' committee at woman's headquarters at 8 o'clock. The commander-in-chief's headquarters were closed at 9 o'clock the adjutant general's office was dark. The bugler of the encampment might well have sounded "lights out."

To-day's session lasted from 9:15 o'clock this morning until 3:45 this afternoon without intermission. Opening under the order of business the encampment took up the election of senior vice commander-in-chief. Comrade Alfred Lyth, of Bidwell-Wilkeson post, of this city, was elected. F. B. Allen, of Connecticut, was chosen junior vice commander-in-chief; Dr. David Mackaye, of Dallas, Tex., surgeon general, and Rev. Frank C. Bruner, of Chicago, chaplain-in-chief.

Among the reports receiving favorable consideration in the executive session of the encampment was that of the pension committee. It recommended a readjustment of widows' pensions and presented a form of proof and application in pension claims substantially the same as that embodied in the Bickler bill, which has passed the national house of representatives but has not passed the senate. The report of the committee on text books used in the public schools was adopted. The report deals severely with some of the histories used in the south, charging that they may state the facts as to the cause of the rebellion and present them from a southern view point. Resolutions urging the correction of the evil were adopted.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people look youthful. Dr. Pierces Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved the he theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists keep the "Discovery."

A HEAVY LOCOMOTIVE.

A Ninety-Tonner Being Built in the Altoona Shops.

The Pennsylvania railroad company is building at its Juniata shops in Altoona a gigantic ninety-six ton freight engine which will have double the capacity of the standard freight engine now in use.

The boiler for the new engine is two feet one and one-fourth inches longer than that of the Mogul, being twenty-nine feet six and three-four inches in length. The weight of the boiler is 42,040 pounds, and the diameter is large enough to permit a good-sized man to stand upright within it, being four inches larger than any other now in use. The usual thickness of the boiler plates (½ inch) has been increased to ¾ inch to withstand a greater steam pressure should it be necessary. There are 316 two-inch tubes on the boiler and the heating surface is 2,470 square feet. The boiler is intended to carry 185 pounds pressure and will be strong enough to withstand 200 pounds to the square inch should it be necessary to increase the pressure.

The four sets of driving wheels are 56 inches in diameter. The cylinders of the engine are 22 inches in diameter and the stroke of the piston is 28 inches.

The new engine will be finished and given a trial by the middle of September, and, if the trial proves successful, four more of the same class will be constructed at once at the Juniata shops.

In connection with 100,000 pound cars, it will haul ore from the lakes to Pittsburg over the Erie and Pittsburg road in competition with the Carnegie line. The train will be equipped with air brakes and will carry no crew, the whole duty of managing the train devolving on the engineer. When the big engine with its specially constructed train of cars begins to run on the Erie and Pittsburg road, the rates on ore will be reduced to twenty-five cents a ton. The Carnegie road now charges forty cents a ton.

In Heart Disease it works Like Magic.

"For years my greatest enemy was organic heart disease. From uneasiness and palpitations it developed into abnormal action thumping, fluttering and choking sensations. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart gave instant relief, and the bad symptoms have entirely disappeared. It is a wonder-worker, for my case was chronic." Rev. L. S. Dana, Pittsburg.

One Killed and Two Badly Hurt.

A frightful accident occurred at Glen Union, a station between Lock Haven and Renovo, at about 6:00 o'clock p. m. Thursday. One man was killed and two others seriously injured.

The station is the centre of lumbering operations. At the time mentioned three Italian workmen were descending a steep grade on the lumber tramway on a truck. The truck acquired such a velocity that it passed out of their control, and after a wild dash down the incline crashed into a car loaded with prop timber.

The men were put on the train that arrived at Williamsport at midnight. One of them, Barney Stollio, was so badly hurt that he died before reaching Lock Haven. The body was put off at that place.

The other two were taken through to the hospital in that city. Joe Julian's skull and one leg were fractured. Nick Figeo has internal injuries and a contused hip. Their condition is serious.

A Delightful Balm to Catarrh Sufferers.

Time was when such drastic measures as the physician's knife or burning the affected parts in catarrh cases were resorted to. Modern medical science has stepped in and the means of curing has lost all the barbaric tendency. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is a most potent remedy. It relieves in a few minutes and cures most stubborn cases.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

LOCK HAVEN, Aug. 27.—Last night three Italians, employed by the Glen Union Lumber company, boarded a truck to go down the heavy grade of the narrow gauge road to their shanty, five miles distant. The men lost control of the car, and, after running two miles at great speed, it plunged into a car loaded with prop timber. Barney Sallio had both legs crushed and a scalp wound. He died a few hours later. George Gulian had his skull fractured, both legs broken and was injured internally. He cannot recover. Nick Figeo received a contusion of the hip and was internally injured, but may recover.

Eczema Relieved in a Day.

Dr. Agnew's Ointment will cure this disgusting skin disease without fail. It will also cure Barber's Itch, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and all skin eruptions. In from three to six nights it will cure Blind, Bleeding, and Itching Piles. One application brings comfort to the most irritating cases, 35 cents.

MINERS IN THREE FIELDS

Status of Strikes in Different Parts of the State.

PATRICK DOLAN ON THE SITUATION

The President of the United Mine Workers Makes Denial of Statements Made By the Pittsburg Operators.

NEWS FROM THE HARD COAL REGION

PITTSBURG, August 29.—Before going to the St. Louis convention to-night Patrick Dolan, district president of the United Mine Workers, expressed himself very freely concerning the statement of the press committee of coal operators of yesterday. The statement charges M. D. Ratchford, the national president, with making certain assertions that are untrue. It gives the details of the offers made by the operators and shifts the burden of the blame to Ratchford.

"It is unfair to the miners and their officials to have such statements go before the public for they are misleading and in the main untrue," said Dolan. "Let me tell something concerning what passed between us at that conference. When Ratchford has given his ultimatum and the operators were excited and some of them very much out of humor, I took the floor. I told them that I looked into the faces of many operators who had repeatedly told me if the miners' officials succeeded in bringing about a suspension in certain mines that were paying a low rate, they would agree not only to pay 69 cents, but $1 a ton. I told them that we had brought about the suspension they asked for and they knew I referred to the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company's mine. It seemed absurd to them to accept our proposition to go to work at the 69 cent rate pending arbitration.

"Of course it is well known they would not listen to our proposition. I then appealed to them to use their efforts to bring about a conference of operatorf and miners in all the states involved. I told them that every one present should make an effort to bring about such a conference, and assured them that the miners' officials would do all in their power to bring the parties interested together. If, after every other effort had been exhausted, to bring about such a conference had failed, I told them that I would be willing to cut loose and act independently for the Pittsburg district and have the support of the local orginization. Now, if this was not fair, I would like to know of an argument against it. They refused to be as good as their word on the first proposition, and on the second did not even exhibit a desire to bring about a conference of the various unions, as I had suggested. We are in favor of bringing the question to an honorable and fair settlement, and on a just basis. This effort to put the odium on the miners is as unfair as it is unjust, and the public should know it.

"It has been decided to start a campaign among the miners of the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The miners formerly employed in the Anderson, Hackett, Germania, Nottingham, Snowden, Gastonville and First Pool mines will hold a mass meeting at Finleyville Wednesday morning. It was learned to-day that the Gastonville miners who were served by an official notice of the Pittsburg and Chicago Gas Coal company with notices to vacate their houses will resist the eviction. Nearly all of them forfeited wages aggregating $9,000 when they went out on strike under conditions imposed upon them by the iron-clad contracts they had signed. They claim the money is due them and they intend to remain in the house until the accounts are squared. The meeting Wednesday is to be addressed by M. P. Garrick, Cameron Miller and others."

A CENTRE CO. BOY'S TROUBLES.

His Stock of Furnishing Goods at Tyrone Seized by Creditors.

The following is from Friday's Tyrone Herald:

Frank J. Heverly, as agent for his father, John Heverly, who lives at Howard, Centre county, has conducted a furnishing store in the Scullin block for the past few months. Tuesday of last week the young man started away on a short trip, as he stated, leaving the store in charge of his clerk, Lloyd Van-Scoyoc. When he left, Frank stated that he was going east and would return by way of his parents' home, where he would make a short visit. His absence seeming to be prolonged beyond a reasonable time, and some of his creditors becoming uneasy a move was made to secure the amounts due them.

Mr. Heverly, Sr., being notified, came to town on Tuesday of this week, and through the law firm of Stevens, Owens & Pascoe turned the stock over to Philadelphia and Pittsburg creditors represented by them. Yesterday evening the goods were thrown upon the market at almost any price that could be gotten for them.

This sale lasted until about 8:00 o'clock this morning, when the law firm of Hicks & Templeton came upon the scene with a landlord's warrant for $90 rent due. The landlord's claim having precedence over other claims, the other creditors' representatives suspended operations, and the owner of the property, Mrs. Anderson, through her attorneys, turned in to dispose of the balance of the goods, which was done this forenoon in about three hours. The goods were sold at wholesale, retail, and in some cases almost given away. The attorneys for both sides claim to have gotten nearly even, but they didn't show any figures to back up their statements. Anyhow, they made quick work of the sale, and the entire stock of goods was scattered over this town in the space of a very few hours.

So far as is known the liabilities of F. J. Heverly, as agent, are not very great, but enough was against him, perhaps, to convince him that he could not meet his obligations, and going away concluded to remain and allow things to take their own course. Or, perhaps, he intended to come back and continue his business, for a number of his private papers were found in the store that would probably not have been left behind had he skipped out to stay, as the case looks upon the surface. But whatever may have been his purpose or intention, his stock of goods were sacrificed, which might have been largely averted had another course been pursued.

Made a Sad Mistake.

NEW YORK, August 27.—A man supposed to be A. W. Lockhart, 38 years old, of 561 Main street, Johnstown, Pa., jumped from an out-going, New York S. and W. train in Jersey City this afternoon. His skull was fractured and he died in an ambulance on his way to the City hospital. He was a jeweler and had been in New York on business. He had boarded the Susquehanna train in the Pennsylvania depot by mistake for a Pennsylvania train. Discovering his error, he jumped off, the train was going nearly twenty miles an hour.

Wheat Yield in Ohio.

The Spring Mills correspondent of the Centre Hall Reporter says:

D. F. Beatty, formerly of our village, but now located in Bellevue, Ohio, writes about the wheat crop in that section. He speaks about a fifty acre tract of land producing 2,234 bushels of the best grade of wheat, which weighed out an average of forty-four bushels and forty pounds to the acre, and taken, too, from land on which there had been three crops grown in succession—one of corn and two of wheat.

The Porter Held.

PHILADELPHIA, August 27.—M. Stuyvesandt, the colored porter was committed to prison to-day to await the action of the grand jury at the conclusion of the formal inquest into the murder of major William C. Wilson, which occured on August 16, at 1117 Walnut street. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the victim of the murderous assault "came to his death at the hands of a person or persons unknown to the jury, the immediate cause of death being hemmorrhage resulting from violent beat ing

Despite the clause in the verdict relating to the unknown identity of the perpetrators of the crime, they were many points in the story told by Marion Stuyvesandt that the testimony did not substantiate. In consequence of this, Coroner Ashbridge said he felt warranted in committing the porter until the latter. could satisfy the grand jury that he is entirely innocent of any connection with the crime.

The fatal concoction was a mixture of whisky, coal oil, lemon juice and alcohol. McGee, who was arrested and afterward admitted to bail, claimed he did not know of the adulteration.

PASTOR LEWY RESIGNS.

He Will Become Professor of Languages in East Liberty Academy.

At a largely attended congregational meeting of the Juniata Presbyterian church held Wednesday night, the Rev. Emil Lewy, who has been the honored and faithful pastor of that church for nearly five years, announced that he had received and accepted an invitation to become professor of languages in the East Liberty academy at Pittsburg, Pa., and that he would ask the congregation to concur with him in his request to the presbytery of Huntingdon to have the pastoral relations dissolved, with many expressions of deep regret the people acquiesced in their pastor's request.

Rev. Lewy possesses the finest qualifications for his new position, having made the study of languages, both ancient and modern, a speciality. He speaks the German and French languages, and possesse a broad scholarship in the ancient classics. He will not leave his field of labor without finishing his appointed work. The Juniata church will be dedicated on Sunday, September 12, with appropriate exercises. The First and Third churches will worship with the people in Juniata in the morning, and the Second and Broad avenue churches will be with them in the evening. That will be the last Sunday of Mr. Lewy's ministration in that church.

Trusts and Populism.

Taking issue with ex-Gov. Flower of New York, as to the latter's defense of trusts and monopolies, Edward Bellamy, the socialistic writer, propounds the theory that socialists should be well pleased with this outspoken advocacy of monopolistic corporations. Mr. Bellamy says that Gov. Flower's attitude amounts to the definite abandonment of the competitive system of industry and that socialism really claims no more than this. There is something more than ordinary significance in this discovery of a cmomon ground whereon the advocates of trusts and the advocates of Populism may make common warfare against the ancient and time-tried competitive system. Mr. Bellamy says the world admits that the competitive system is either dead or dying and cannot be revived.

After the Lebos.

Lycoming authorities are after the Lebos, near Haneyville, on the charge of selling liquor without a license. The constable went after them on Saturday, but Isaac and his wife persistently continued working in a potato patch which they owned in Clinton county. As the warrant had not been endorsed by a Clinton county justice, the officer returned to Williamsport without his prisoners. A gentleman from Haneyville was in this city yesterday and stated that Isaac Lebo and his wife as well as their sons had left home, but how long they will be gone no ones knew.

County Detective Gohrig left for the Lebo residence yesterday with the intention of arresting the parties wanted. It will be remembered that Edna Crider lived with the Lebos at the time of her murder.

Closed Because of the Strike.

DuBois, Pa., Aug. 28.—The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railway shops at this place closed down indefinitely Friday night. This is a direct result of the miners' strike. The road's freight business is principally hauling coal and there being no coal for shipment there will be no need to build or repair cars. Two hundred shopmen and many railroad men are out of employment on account of the strike and nearly $2,000 per day are lost to citizens of this community. Nothing has been done to-day by either the miners or operators. It is now proposed by the miners who want to work to try to hold a meeting Monday night to reconsider the decision to strike.

Millers Will Go to Philadelphia.

Arrangements have been perfected in Philadelphia for the meeting of Eastern millers who will assemble in their Twentieth Annual State Convention on September 7, 8 and 9, Besides a very attractive business programme, there will be much else of interest during the three days' stay in the City of Brotherly Love. A reception at the great Commercial Museums and a trip to Atlantic City are among the special features of the meeting. There will also be addresses on trade with South Africa and South America by gentlemen prominent in the business world. The Hotel Walton, Broad and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, one of the finest in the country has been secured as the headquarters for the Convention, a special low rate having been obtained, and the meetings will be held in one of its assembly rooms. The railroads leading to Philadelphia will also issue excursion tickets at special rates.

The Pennsylvania Millers' State Association, under whose auspices the Convention is held, was established in 1878, and it is now the largest millers, organization in the country. Col. Asher Miner, Wilkesbarre, Pa., is the President, and W. H. Richardson, 227 South Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Secretary.

Two Not of a Kind.

Silver can't drop much lower unless somebody who is willing to furnish the hole comes forward pretty soon.—Cleveland Leader.

The chuckle of delight with which the gold standard press are quoting the figures which show how much the government of the United States has lost on the depreciation of silver since it first began the purchase of that metal in 1878 is one of the most nauseating instances of the glorying in one's own shame that history affords.—Detroit Tribune.

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

A Mysterious Death Occurs in Williamsport Tuesday Morning.

Samuel Sornberg, a young man 18 years of age, was found dead early Tuesday morning at Williamsport.

How the young man came to his death is not yet determined, but the circumstances point to a murder. He was found lying on a pavement in the vicinity of Park and First streets, in that city, with a bullet hole in his left shoulder, and beside him lay a revolver covered with blood, but with nothing in the cylinder, not even an empty cartridge. The coroner was notified and after an examination it was thought that the wound could not have caused his death and foul play is suspected.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED.

Early Tuesday morning Chief Keller, of Lock Haven, received a description of some parties who are suspected, and shortly after, when coming out of Liberty street, Lock Haven, he saw a young man waiting for the west bound freight train, who answered the description somewhat. The officer started after the young man, who, however, jumped on the opposite side of the train and took to his heels and gave the policeman a chase of eight or ten squares before he was captured on Bellefonte avenue, near Main street. He was at once taken to the county jail and the Williamsport authorities notified. The prisoner refuses to tell his name or where he is from. During the morning several other suspicous characters were taken in, who will be held for the present.

Officer Griffin arrested two more suspects and all the men will be held until the arrival of an officer from Williamsport.—Lock Haven Expr's.

Gladstone on the Novelists.

Mr. Gladstone has said recently that the century has produced only two great novelists—Sir Walter Scott and George Eliot. We accept the decision of the grand old man as nearly correct. We would have edged in Thackeray, but it doesn't matter, Sir Walter Scott and George Eliot are so clearly foremost that we can have no dispute with the ex-Premier. If he had named more than two, Thackeray would have come in for honorable mention, and so would Dickens and Charlotte Bronte, but restricting himself to two only we do not see how he could have omitted either Scott or Eliot, Dickens treated life as a caricaturist, a gentle caricaturist, but a caricaturist nevertheless. He was a great and entertaining writer, but as a novelist he was not equal to either of the two named by Mr. Gladstone. Thackeray treated life from a different standpoint. He was more severe on the foibles of mankind, but he also exaggerated human characters. Mr. Gladstone's judgment is wonderfully good, and we shall not be surprised to see it become the judgment of the next century.—Iowa State Register.

Salisbury's Proposal Fails.

Constantinople, Aug. 30.— Lord Salisbury's proposal for a joint guarantee of the idemnity to be paid to Turkey by Greece has fallen through owing to Russia's reluctance and German's jealousy.

Athens, Aug. 30.—The government has replied to the request of the powers for a statement of the revenue it will be able to assign as a guarantee for an idemnity loan. The government offers to set apart revenue amounting to 6,000,000 drachmas yearly.

The Austrian government, it is stated, proposed the rejection of the British plan for the settlement of the Graeco-Turkish difficulty, and urges that the five remaining powers proceed with the conclusion of peace between the two countries.

Will Give Them Forty Cents.

Du Bois, Pa., August 29.—General Manager Robinson to-day issued a circular to the Rochester and London striking miners in which he grants an advance to forty cents per net ton and gives the company's side of the controversy. On Tuesday, after the committee notified Mr. Robinson that the miners here had decided to strike, notwithstanding his request for them to work until Saturday, when he would reply to their demand for an advance, he told them he would have no further communication with Du Bois. In his circular to-day he says he deems it his duty to send them a communication, as they have been misled and misinformed. After explaining the condition of the company and its efforts to obtain contracts, Mr. Robinson says: "The effect of the lost tonnage you will feel long after these agitators with incorrect and careless statements of facts have disappeared."

The circular also contains the information that the Pittsburg miners are working under the scale of 54 cents for screened coal. The 40-cent rate here is in the same proportion as the 69-cent in the Pittsburg region. The granting of the advance asked ought to result in immediate resumption. Nothing definite can be stated until the miners have received the communication and acted upon it.

Walston, Adrian and Helvetia mines worked yesterday, while 600 striking miners from Reynoldsville and Eleanora camped on the fair grounds at Punxsutawney. Meetings were held at each of these places this afternoon and addressed by agitators. A vote taken resulted in favor of continuing work.

THE REASON WHY.

Every Why Has a Wherefore and 'Tis Well to Look for It at Times.

In these days people want to know the, whys and wherefores.

The 19 century man is a natural skeptic. The why and wherefore of such is plain. He reads statements of supposed facts. He is told that every ailment of mankind can be cured. He has an ailment and tries some panacea. It fails; he tries another with the same result. Such experiments makes him look askance at future claims. Often the fault is his, but he don't see why. He may have a backache or perhaps a lame or weak back. He used plaster or liniments, they relieved him for a time, but failed to cure the trouble.

This is his fault; the why is that he did not know the wherefore of his aches. Had he known that the kidneys were the cause, that backache generally means kidney ache. That the kidneys must felter the blood constantly. That failure to do so immediately effects the back. That backache is only the first step toward many kidney disorders. Urinary troubles follow. Retention of urine. Excesive urine. Diabetes—Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are a positive specific for all kidney complaints.

The aching back has no greater enemy than Doan's kidney pills, Not injurious to the most delicate constitution. Do not act on the bowels, but direct on the kidneys. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sent by mail on receipt of price by Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

—Biblical facts: The Bible contains 2,566,480 letters; 775,740 words; 31,173 verses; 1189 chapters and 60 books. The word "and" occurs 46,277 times, the word "Lord" 1855 times, the word "reverend" but once, and can be found in Psalms 111: 9. The middle verse is Psalms 118: 8 the 21st verse of the 7th chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except J. The 19 chapter of 2nd Kings and the 37th chapter of Isaiah are alike, The longest verse is Esther 8: 9; the shortest John 11: 35, There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

The expected happened at Harrisburg yesterday. Beacom and McCauley were nominated for state treasurer and auditor general respectively. Hicks didn't act as temporary chairman. Mr. Elkin served in that position. Senator McCarrel was permanent presiding officer. The platform is a mixture. Some of it is good, some indifferent and some absurd. The candidates are reputable citizens. They represent the dominant sentiment of the state, will be triumphantly elected, in spite of the damage done by the late legislative session, and will make excellent officers.—Altoona Tribune.

SETTLED IN OHIO,

The Coal Strike Considered as Over In That State.

ONLY ONE OPERATOR OBJECTS

The Settlement Means the Soft Coal District, and the Man Who is Standing Out Belongs to Pittsburg, Pa.

WHAT RATCHFORD HAS TO SAY

Columbus, O., August 31.—The coal strike is considered settled here. The plan is to resume at 64 cents and work pending arbitration.

The direct parties in this conference of adjustment are President Ratchford, of the United Mine Workers, and the executive committee of the operators. A nnmber of the latter were in the city today and the result is that a decision may be looked for almost at any monent. The direct effect of this decision will be the opening of the mines and of the resumption of work by all the striking miners the beginning of the coming week.

An operator here says: The new figure has been accepted by all but one operator in the Pittsburg district, and it is understood it has been approved by President Ratchford and other members of the executive committee of the United Mine Workers. It is expected that the single operator still holding out will be finally nduced to yield and that the great strike will thus be brought to a speedy and peaceful close."

St. Louis, August 31.—When shown the dispatch from Columbus. O., stating that the coal strike was considered there as settled, President Ratchford, of the United Mine Workers of American act knowleged that he had received a proposition to have the miners resume work at 64 cents pending arbitration. He added: "Our executive council meets at Columbus, O., to-morrow night and the proposition of Mr. Young, who represent a large number of operators, will be considered with other matters. I must decline to discuss the proposition until after it is submitted to the council. It would not be right for me to do so.

"This convention has given us very material aid already. The money that will be collected under the resolution passed will amount to between four and five million dollars and it will keep us alive a long time. It allows us to go on with the strike without fear of starvation.

DuBois, Pa., August 31.—Helvetia, six miles from here, was the only mine of the Clearfield and Jefferson Coal Mining company working to-day. Walston and Adrian had each voted, at a meeting Sunday, to continue work, but the strikers from Reynoldsville and Eleanor drummed them out and both were idle to-day. The suspension at those places was inaugurated without the men voting to strike. The strikers next moved upon Helvetin and that place will be idle to-morrow. Several hundred miners marched a dozen miles from Punxsutawney to Helvetia, arriving there this evening and will pull that place out. A Helvetian miners said to-day. "We will not vote to strike but cannot stand drumming."

The strikers are now camping at Helvetie. The idle miners here have remained quietly at home and show no disposition to take part in the demonstrations elsewhere in the district, not to return to work. General Manager Robinson to-day issued the following notice: "To avoid any further notices to each mine separately, you are hereby notified that our recent answer to your demand is final, being, as is well known, equal to the highest rates paid in any and all competitive regions."

Delegates representing the striking miners will meet here to-morrow, but it is thought they will not recommend resumption. The strike sentiment is apparently growing. Berwind-White at this place is working and no effort has yet been made to get the men out. Mining at that shaft is all by machinery and the men are paid by the day. Coal Glen, Beech Tree and the Toby Valley mines are all working.

Conditions Onerous to Greece.

Athens, Aug. 30.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Ralli, the Premier, presented a bill for the retention of a portion of the currant crop, declaring that the government would treat the vote on the question as one of confidence.

The government, the Premier said, could not state how the peace negotiations between Greece and Turkey stood, but the country must be aware that the conditions proposed were onerous.

M. Delyannis said that while the enemy trod on Greek soil, there would be dissensions, and that it would be an evil augury for the country for his party to support the government.

M. Levidis, formerly Minister of Marine, who was assulted in the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies on Saturday by M. Grivas chief of staff of the Greek fleet, brought up the subject of the attack upon him to the attention of the chamber, and explained the remarks made by him, which led to the assault, where upon M. Grivas apologized for striking M. Levidis.

The bill presented by M. Ralli passed its first reading.

Another Oriole Cave.

When a man plows a field in Nippenose Valley he is not always sure "where he is at." Two or three times in the last three years the News has told of horses taking a sudden drop out of sight while moving over apparently firm ground in the act of plowing.

Last Friday Sam Bower, plowing in one of J. W. Group's fields, formerly belonging to the Gamble farm, met with one of those cave-in surprises. In going around the field the horse in the furrow struck a soft spot, sinking down several inches with his hind feet. No attention was paid to this incident, but upon the next round, when at the same place, the horse broke bodily through the thin ground and slid backwards 14 feet into a slanting hole.

Mr. Bower had his wits about him and quickly unsnapped the harness which was pulling his mate to the ground. Assistance was called and dirt was shoveled under the buried horse which enabled him to gradually raise himself. Owing to the inclination of the side of the cavity the men had little difficulty in making a path for the horse to walk out.

There was barely room for the horse to stand and his sides were scraped by the sand stone which wedged him in on either side. Otherwise the horse was uninjured.—Nippenose News.

Railroads Warned by Spain.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—The report that a company of volunteers and three carloads of ammunition would leave this city for Cuba has caused the Spanish Consul, Dupuy de Lome, at Lenox, to send out the following notice to all lines running south out of Chicago:

"You are hereby warned not to carry material contraband of war or any material that may subsequently be used for or by the Cuban insurgents. If such material is shipped, the Spanish government will hold you responsible under the rules of the international law, and by reason of any such protection as the laws of the United States give said Spanish government, as far as relates to the shipping or carrying of goods contraband of war to non-belligerents."

The Consul telegraphed to Minister Lome, asking it he should apply to United States District Attorney Black for an injunction restraining all railroads from carrying men or ammunition supposed to be bound for Florida points. On this question the Council is in doubt, although he says it appears to him that, under the law he has the same right to stop the men and ammunition here as he would were they aboard a ship at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla., August 30.—The report that the steamer Soledad, of this city, is to take a party of Chicago filibusters to Cuba is entirely erroneous. The steamer has been undergoing repairs for some months, and will not be in condition for use for a long while to come. She is also slow, and not fitted for the filibustering business.

What the Gipsy Told Her.

A Williamsport young lady, who is soon to be married, had her fortune told recently, and said to her friends that she wouldn't tell what the future had in store for her for ten hundred thousand million dollars, but a day or two later she let the cat out of the bag by blushingly asking a girl chum "Do you think twins are nice?"

Real Education.

The theory that education unfits men for work cannot be accepted without accepting also a contracted meaning of "education." Real education gives those who profess it a wide and sane view of life and makes them philosophers, capable of cheerful acceptance of any lot which may justly come to them out of the grab-bag of mundane existence. It enables them to make the most of circumstances, whatever the circumstances may be.

Good Advice to Women.

Women, on account of the toil and work entailed by their household duties, too often neglect the habit and regularity of their peculiar organism. The result is general and nervous debility, chronic headache, weakness of the back and loins, deficient and delayed menses, etc. The best remedy for all female troubles is Dr. John W. A Bellefonte Lodge at Philipsburg.

The Bellefonte Standard Lodge, No. 3562 attended the 2nd annual picnic of the Moshannon Lodge, No. 3459 G. U. O. of O. F. held at Philipsburg on August 26th, and report having had a very enjoyable time. It was a great day for all those who enjoy outdoor sports. There was a game of ball between the Bellefonte and Philipsburg, lodges which resulted 2 to 0 in favor of Bellefonte. There was a full dress parade at 11 o'clock headed by the Philipsburg cornet band and the Bellefonte Standard Lodge, No, 3562. Then came the Moshannon Lodge and then the delegates from Curwensville and Altoona, also the sisters of the H. H. of R. No. 856. The picnic was held at the Royal Arcanum Park of Philipsburg. All honer should be given to the following named who gave valuable assistance toward the success of the event: Brothers B. Burk, L. N. Mitchell, Selder Pollard, John Alexander chief Marshall Alexander Morrison, and Assistant Marshall James Shorter. The citizens of Philipsburg extended a cordial and hearty welcome to the visitors.

A NERVE BUILDER.

Mrs. M. E. Bland Hartwell, Ga., writes concerning Dr. Hartman's free treatment for women: "I trust no one will think from this that I would wish my name in the public for any cause only to let sufferer's know where they may find relief from many pains. I can truly say I have been much benefited by the use of Pe ru-na. I feel better than I have for years. I have suffered for years of chronic catarrh, bronchitis, asthma and female trouble, of which I have been much helped by Pe-ru-na. If, for no other reason, it would pay to keep it for colds and coughs. It keeps off colds, it prevents la grippe, and builds up the nerves. I gladly recommend it to all as the cheapest and best medicine."

Dr. Hartman has written a book expressly for suffering women which contains his treatment for all the diseases to which women are liable. It is a book which should be in the possession of every sick woman and every woman who wishes to protect herself from sickness. It will be sent free to women only, for a short time, by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

New Cheese Law.

The new law regulating the manufacture and sale of cheese in this state went into effect last Monday and since that time the office of the dairy and food commission has been deluged by letters asking for information about it. Copies of the law are now being sent out by hundreds and Chief Clerk George Guyer Hutchison, who has charge of the office, in the absence of Commissioner Wells, has been working hard to answer the letters making inquiry of its provisions. Laws are being sent out not only to Pennsylvania but to New York and Ohio manufacturers.

The new law requires the name of the manufacturer to be placed on all packages of cheese and it regulates standards and brands. By direction of the department there has been made analysis of over three hundred samples of cheese selected in different parts of the state. These tests so far as yet reported indicate that the cheese is fairly up to the guarantee required by law, and that nearly all of the samples show over thirty-two per cent of butter fat as required by law.

The department is also answering many inquiries as to the new law regulating the sale of vinegar. By an act of the last legislature certain provisions were made as to the color of the article.

The County Christian Endeavor convention will convene to-morrow, Wednesday, the report of which will be too late for this issue. The delegates have commenced to arrive and indications point to the convention being one of the best ever held in this county. The report in full will be given in the DAILY NEWS.

Unionville News.

Wednesday of last week the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held a picnic in the woods near town on the grounds owned by Samuel Brugger. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all. A large black snake was captured by Messrs. J. H. Finch and Evan Goodfellow. It produced quite a sensation among the picnicers. When it was known that it was secure and could not hurt them many gazed with interest on the first live black snake they had ever viewed so closely.

Master Toner Calhoun, son of Harris Calhoun, of this place, met with quite a serious accident last week. While at the saw mill two of his fingers came in contact with the saw and cut them so severely that they had to be amputated. He exhibited a degree of bravery while passing through this painful ordeal that called forth expressions of admiration from his many friends.

A number of young people from Tyrone spent a week camping out near this place along the creek above the dam.

Dr. C. A. VanValin, enjoyed a well earned vacation at Atlantic City and Ocean Grove, attending the camp meeting at the latter place.

Captain W. C. VanValin, Harris Calhoun and Harry Griest of this place took in the encampment at Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Jesse Irwin, of Pine Glenn, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah Iddings.

Mrs. George Finch and her daughter, Mrs. Lincoln Miller, have returned from Philipsburg where they were guests at the home of Mrs. George Sanford.

Monday evening a number of the young people took a straw ride, enjoying the beautiful evening, seated on that product of late summer in fine country style.

Fight With a Bull.

The Nippenose News says: Christ Bubb, of the Denworth farm, had a thrilling experience with a bull one day last week. He had taken a calf across the mountain in a spring wagon, the cow running alongside. When near Painter's, above Nisbet, a bull was attracted from a field, and Mr. Bubb dismounted, whip in hand, to drive the bull back, telling his boy to proceed with the spring wagon.

The bull charged upon Mr. Bubb, who tried to keep him off by lashing him in the face. This only enraged the bull. He rushed upon his castigator and tossed him to the side of the road into a stone pile. Mr. Bubb arose quickly, picked up a rock and heaved it at the bellowing brute, landing on the head. The bull fell on his knees, then struggled to his feet just in time to stop another flying missile with his face. The bull was game and would not retreat, although the stoning kept him at bay. Mr. Bubb thinks he fired at least a hundred stones at the bull before a number of men from the neighborhood arrived with dogs.

The dogs got at the bull after their usual method, and started him down the road. Mr. Bubb feared his boy and the horse would be killed, but luckily the bull turned just as he reached the wagon, and giving up fighting the dogs off, ran at full speed down the mountain. The dogs were stimulating his energies by chewing his flanks. Though suffering from his bruises, Mr. Bubb enjoyed the scene until the dogs and bull had passed from view.

Mr. Bubb was unable to get around for three days after his adventure.

A Mother's Darling.

Sympathy is best shown when practically applied. Therefore, when your baby is suffering from summer complaint, diarrhœa, or dysentery, show practical sympathy by giving him Dr. John W. Bull's Baby Syrup. Mrs. R. H. Chappell, Homeville, Va., is very emphatic in her commendation of this wonderful remedy. She says: "I think there is no medicine like Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup for babies. I would as soon think of raising them without bread to eat, as to dispense with Bull's Baby Syrup for them." This efficacious remedy is indispensable to mothers; it is sold by all dealers for only 25 cents a bottle. Take no other preparation, but buy Dr. John W. Bull's Baby Syrup; nothing else can take its place. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

GOLD IN ALASKA.

Returning Miners Have Plenty of Faith in the Future.

SEATTLE, Wash., August 20.—It is a fact of importance that nearly all the miners who came down on the Portland this morning express the utmost confidence in the mines on the American side of the Yukon. A number have worked in them for years, making their first stake on streams within the limits of Alaska or having their source in that territory. Mr. Anson Buckley is among them, and in an interview said:

"I think Alaskan claims are as good, and in some instances, better than those in Canadian territory, not including the Klondike discovery. The greater number of strictly good claims are to be found on the Alaskan side. A great many good claims were abandoned when the Klondike strike was made, and many who had been making money threw their property over and started with the crowd to Eldorado and Bonanza creeks. This was particularly the case on Miller, Forty Mile and other diggings almost equally noteable."

Like all returning miners, Buckley recommends that all who have the fever cool it off in a more congenial climate and take to the trails in the spring. He is operating on Forty Mile creek, and his experience of 25 years as a placer and quartz miner tells him to stay with it. He returns with gold and poor health, but expresses the determination to go back, although he has spent over five years in the northern diggings.

An Iowa man named Burt Farnham, who made a strike in No. 44, above the first discovery on Bananca creek, said: "In my opinion Minute and Tanana creeks, on the American side, will make a splendid showing. There are good diggings there, and when the Klondike gets into a rut then the boys will prospect in their own country."

On Deadwood and Mastodon creeks he mined with good results, and went from those diggings to the Klondike last fall. He, too, advises a sudden halt in the sudden stampede north.

The credit of the first discovery of quartz in place on the Klondike is given to W. Oler, who also located No 29 on Eldorado creek last fall. He owns interests in claims on Bonanza and Gold Bottom creeks, and retains an interest in his gold quartz ledge, having sold a half interest to others at a good price, considering that it is a country where little or no attention is given to quartz ledges. On No. 10 Klondike, in which he has an interest, he took out nearly $10,000 in the length of five boxes, boxes in these diggings being about twelve feet long. His home is in Baltimore, but he has been on the Pacific coast for many years, and is now returning with substantial proof of his good luck. His interests will call him back to the Klondike in the spring after remaining in the east for the winter among his old friends. The amount he has made in the new diggings he keeps to himself, but his neighbors look upon him as a coming Klondike magnate.

Among those who first tried their fortune on the Yokon and Stewart rivers was George S. Lansing, who finally went to the Klondike, spending the winter on Bonanza creek, working No. 30, below Discovery claim. He sold out at a very respectable figure and is here for a visit among his friends. Gold Bottom and Hunker creeks are regarded by W. W. Caldwell, of St. Joseph, Mo., as among the most promising in the Northwest territories. The pay channel in places is from 100 to 200 feet in width, the gold being evenly distributed. Caldwell owns claims on Bonanza and Eldorado, and has made a respectable clean up in the way of dust, and still retains interests enough to call him back to the Klondike in February or March. He was engaged in mining on Forty Mile before going to Klondike, and was one of the first on Hunker creek. Since last fall, it is said, he has made $20,000 in gold, independent of his interests in properties. He thinks there are but few countries in the world that offer better opportunities for capital than the Yukon.

REPUBLICANSTATE CONVENTION

Many Delegates Arrive in Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—The state capital is crowded to-night with delegates and politicians to attend to-morrow's state Republican convention. Major Levi G. McCauley, of West Chester, Chester county, will be nominated for auditor general, and James S. Beacom, of Greensburg, for state treasurer. Deputy Attorney General John P. Elkin, of Indiana, will make a speech to the convention sounding the keynote of the campaign. Major McCauley's name will be presented by Colonel H. H. Gilkeson, of Phœnixville. Congressman E. E. Robbins, of Westmoreland, will do the honors for Beacom.

A large delegation of York Republican reached the city on an evening train and paraded the streets with two bands of music, shouting for R. Hathaway Shindel, of York, who is still in the race for state treasurer. Shindel concedes the nomination of Beacom and will probably withdraw after his name has been presented to the convention. Senator John W. Crawford, of Allegheny, is also on hand with his boom for treasurer. He will receive the votes of the anti-Quay delegates, not more than 50 of the 363. Crawford's name will probably be placed in nomination by A. C. Robertson, chairman of the Allegheny county committee.

There is no lack of aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination in 1898. Nearly all of them have headquarters and are industriously circulating among the delegates and visiting politicians. Senator John C. Grady, of Philadelphia, is on the scene pushing his candidacy for lieutenant governor. He has been in the senate for twenty years and has a large following all through the state. The senator is a formidable candidate and his friends think there is no doubt of his nomination. Senator J. M. McCarrell, of Harrisburg, and Congressman J. D. Hicks, of Altoona, are also spoken of for the lieutenant governorship, although neither has headquarters or is making much effort to capture votes.

Mr. Shindel to-night issued the following statement:

"I yield to the requests of my friends and withdraw from the contest for state treasurer. The endorsement of Major McCauley for auditor general by all the factions of the party assures his nomination and prevents mine. It would be unusual and impolitic to take both candidates from the same section of the state. The unanimous endorsement given me by my congressional district, the assurance of aid from all parts of the state, and the enthusiastic and loyal support of my friends at home, will ever be remembered and appreciated.

"It must be apparent to everybody that the choice of a large majority of the delegates to the present convention is for James S. Beacom for state treasurer and Major L. G. McCauley for auditor general. It is a ticket that should command the respect and support of a united party. If the contest I have made shall bring the claims of York county fairly before the people of the state, so that some time we may be recognized as we deserve, I shall feel amply repaid."

Very Ill With Anthrax.

The Williamsport Sun says: Charles Edmunds, a farmer of Rose Valley, is very ill at his home, the result of cutting his hand while skinning a cow which had died of anthrax. Several cows belonging to farmers had been attacked by anthrax, a disease which is very rare, but usually fatal. Mr. Edmund, last Monday was skinning one of the cows, which had died, and cut his hand slightly. He was attacked by the disease, which is one of the stomach, and which starts as a malignant, gangrenous pustule. The patient has about twenty out of one hundred chances of recovery. As the disease is infectious the farmers of the valley are considerably worried, lest it spread among the cattle of the region.

Chief Justice Fuller's Daughter Dying.

TACOMA, Wash., August 24.—Mrs. Hugh Wallace, daughter of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller, is dying of appendicitis at Ashford's farm, at the base of Mount Rainer. Doctors Yocum and Hickman and Mr. Wallace are at the bedside doing everything possible to save her life. It is considered doubtful if she can live two days. The doctors have decided that she is too weak to undergo an operation. Messengers are kept on the road between Ashford and Tacoma carrying medicines up and bringing in bulletins of her condition. These are wired to Chief Justice Fuller, who is sojourning at a Maine summer resort.

Flows in Different Directions.

According to the Democrat, Potter county enjoys a distinction that is probably not granted to any other county in the United States, in that its surface is in three of the great slopes. The Allegheny rising in the central parts, winds its way westward to the gulf system; the Genesee river has its source in the northeast part of the county, from which its waters are discharged into the St. Lawrence basin, while the numerous branches of the Susquehanna river afford an outlet into the Atlantic slope.

FOREIGNERS ARE MASTERS.

Hungarian and Italian Miners Ruling the Roost.

DOWN IN THE POTTSVILLE REGION

They Are Without an Intelligent Leader and Their Grievances Are Only Partly Understood by Americans.

THE MANY TROUBLES ELSEWHERE

HAZLETON, Pa., August 27.—The threatened strike at Van Wickle's Coleraine and Beaver Meadow collieries took place this morning. The Hungarians and Italians are master of the situation, and 2,000 men are idle pending the decision of the foreign element. Last night the foreigners held a meeting and at late hour they visited the homes of their countrymen, pulled them out of bed and delivered the edict. When the officials arrived at No 2. colliery this morning they found the mine door closed and a placard bearing the word "Stragk" placed upon it. This was the announcement of the strike. Two hundred men marched to the canal this morning, where they were joined by 100 more. They then went to the breaker. The bosses and coal and iron police tried to stop them, but they were hustled aside and the breaker was cleared. The carpenters and blacksmiths were driven from the shops, and a squad of 100 men are now marching to the Evans colliery. It is said that the strikers will invade the Milnesville district. The strikers are without an intelligent leader, and their grievances are but partially understood.

When the Coleraine strikes reached Milnesville this afternoon, after passing through this city, they drove the 1,000 men employed there from the strippings and breakers, shutting down the mines completely. The excitement was intense. The streets were crowded with men and women, great crowds going from this city to Milnesville with the strickers. The mines here have been the best in the hard coal region and the only ones that have worked steadily during the past year.

To-night a meeting was held and the Hungarians decided to stand by the Coleraine workers for an increase in wages. The dispatch relating to the decision of the supreme court declaring the alien tax law unconstitutional, was read and loudly cheered. This tax has figured conspicuously in the present strife. A joint meeting will be held to-morrow. The English-speaking miners would go to work at once, but the foreigners are in a large majority and will not permit it. It is stated to-night that the uneasiness among the foreigners employed by all other companies here is becoming prevailant. While they have had no labor organization every man belongs to a society which is said to have had the present movement in hand.

The miners at Big Run and Punxsutawney went on strike to-day in sympathy with the Reynoldsville and DuBois miners.

A Colored Rip Van Winkle.

The following story comes from Atlanta, Ga.: Twenty years ago a robust young colored man named George Brown was convicted in the courts at Columbus of stealing a game rooster and was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary. To-day he is free again, but he is old and gray and bent with infirmities. He has been to his old home in Muscogee county, and was there given a reception which has dazed him. His daughter, whom he left a baby, has grown up and is married and gave birth to twins one week before the old man arrived. He inquired for the pastor of his church and was told that he had been dead for fourteen years. Others whom he asked for had been forgotten and there was no one to care for him and no one who even knew him. He talked about the war as though it were a recent occurance. He did not know who was president of the United States, and he never heard of McKinley. He asserts positively that he did not steal the chicken, and he wanted to find the judge who sentenced him to tell him so, but the judge was dead.

One of Two Ways.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attruted to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton N. Y. the proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

HARMONY REIGNED.

The Nominations at Harrisburg were Unanimous.

The Republican state convention at Harrisburg yesterday did its work speedily and well, putting substantial material both into the platform and upon it. Though there is no part of the platform at which the opposition will not throw varied assortments of epithet, the part of it which will be likely to cause the most hypocritical comment is the reference to civil service. The Democratic critics, both of platform and press, will declare that the civil service declaration represents and assault on the principles of that service, and that its true blue defender and fostering guardian is the Democracy. If they desired to deal with the facts in the case—which desire, of course, they are not expected to entertain—they would say that the course pursued by Grover Cleveland during his last administration, and particularly during the closing period of it, did more to injure the civil service cause than anything which had previously occurred. Assuming to be non-partisan he was so clearly the reverse and on such a wholesale scale that it brought protests and ridicule of his pretensions from all parts of the country. That part of the state platform referring to the subject simply means the Republicans of Pennsylvania are in favor of actual civil service, and are not in favor of ratifying the uncivil service policy of Cleveland's closing term. They accordingly favor such action by congress and the president as will rectify the abuses of the service and put it on the right basis. The framers of the convention platform wasted few words in shaping it, and it speaks directly for itself. The candidates named are thoroughly capable men and their Republicanism is unquestioned. James S. Beacom of Greensburg, who easily won the nomination for state treasurer, is one of those who come under the head of selfmade men, and well qualified for the office to which Pennsylvania voters will take pleasure in electing him. Maj. Levi G. McCauley of West Chester, the candidate for auditor-general, has an enviable record as a citizen and soldier—no. not enviable, perhaps, as a soldier, for the loss of an arm is one of his perpetual remembrances of his soldier life and nobody envies the possessors of the empty sleeves. The adopting of a good platform and the nominating of good candidates were the word of yesterday's convention.

Lafayette, the Courtier.

Many charming stories have been told by old ladies who were in their prime when Lafayette made his second visit to America, of the gallant Frenchman's courtesy.

On the day of his public reception in Virginia he rode in an open carriage without his hat, exposed to the rays of a brilliant sun, bowing to the crowds always ready to greet him. There was some apprehension that sunstroke might be the penalty of his politeness, but the marquis was an old soldier. Before leaving home he had put a damp towel into his capacious wig, and protected by this helmet, he could indulge his French politeness with impunity. French and American revolutions and Austrian dungeons had taught him the art of self-preservation.

The most charming story is of earlier date—his visit to the mother of Washington. He found her in the garden, raking together dried weeds and sticks, preparatory to a bonfire, arrayed in a linsey skirt, sack and broad-brimmed hat tied over the plaited border of her cap.

The hostess met the situation with the composure of a duchess. Dropping her rake, she took between her bare palms he hand the nobleman extended, as he bowed before her, and said:

"Ah, marquis! You have come to see an old woman! I can make you welcome without changing my dress. I am glad to see you. I have often heard my son George speak of you. But come in."

Preceding him into her living room, she placed herself opposite him, erect as a girl of eighteen, never touching the tall, straight back of her chair, whilst she listened to the praise of her son poured forth by the eloquent Frenchman.

Then she mixed with her own hands a cooling drink and offered it to the general with a plate of home-made ginger-cakes. The man of the world accepted the beverage as simply and gracefully as it was tendered, pronounced it delicious and arose to go. Would she give him her blessing?

She looked up to heaven, folded her hands and prayed that God would grant him "safety, happiness, prosperity and peace."

Nippenose Short on Potatoes.

The Jersey Shore Vidette says: It is estimated that Nippenose valley will not produce one-forth of an average potato crop this year. The plant are large and well grown, but very few murphys cling to their roots. The price is on the rise Two years ago potatoes could not be given away, and even hogs, glutted, turned away from them.

Appointed a Trustee.

HARRISBURG, August 25,—Donald C. Haldeman, of Harrisburg, a grandson of the late General Cameron, was this afternoon appointed a trustee of the State Lunatic hospital, to take the place of the ate Colonel Louis W. Hall, of this city.

FIRE IN PITTSBURG.

It Caused the Loss of $165,000 Worth of Property--Several Persons Killed.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 26.—Fire this evening caused the loss of $165,000 worth of property, death to several persons and created a panic in the Seventh Avenue hotel.

About 6.30 o'clock flames were discovered in the five-story building at 637 Smithfield street, occupied by Edmundson & Perrine's furniture establishment, and gained such rapid headway that the building was a mass of flames before engines reached the scene. In a very short time the building was entirely destroyed. The fire originated from the explosion of a gas engine in the cellar. After the fire had been subdued the Strawberry alley wall of the Edmunson & Perrine building fell, burying under the debris two firemen, Zake Clover and Harry Holt. Two boys who were watching the firemen work are supposed to be under the fallen wall. Holt's and Clover's bodies were recovered. The hunt is still going on for the bodies of the two boys.

Bryan's State Getting Rich.

OMAHA, Aug. 25.—The prosperity wave in Nebraska is growing. Bankers declare over 200 per cent. more money is being invested in the state than any previous time in Nebraska's history. Even manual labor is commanding good wages. This extraordinary condition is attributed to the great cereal wealth and the advance recently in the price of that commodity.

The actual increase to-day in va of the crops of 1897 over crops of 1896 foots up a total of $18,838,500. As the prices in Nebraska are mostly made by the Chicago prices, it is fair to assume that the advance in the past week in this state has been nearly, if not quite, as much as in Chicago. If this is true, the values of four cereal crops in this state have advanced $2,687.500. The oat crop is worth $5.028.000, and the rye crop $635,000. The Nebraska farmer is just $2,687,000 richer to-day than he was a week ago.

In 1896 the potato crop of Nebraska was 11,383,020 bushels. This figure will be equaled, if not exceeded, this season. Potatos are worth 50 cents a bushel at wholesale in Omaha to-day. If the Nebraskan farmer raises no more than he did in 1896 his potatos will be worth $6,691,510. When to this is added the certain increases in the prices of all other things the farmer has to sell—his fruit, dairy products, poultry and live stock and the crops not enumerated in the valuation, but of which enough is raised to make in the aggregate a very reasonable showing, it will be seen that farming is paying in this state.

Back From the Grave

We cannot come, but we can often stay our progress thither. Disease, like else, must have a beginning. All maladies tend to shorten life, and render it a species of martyrdom while they last. Malaria, kidney complaint, chronic indigestion, rheumatism—all have small beginnings, and may be stayed at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This excellent tonic and alterative is adapted alike to the prevention of disorders of the system and to their removal, and its early use cannot be too strongly advocated. To renew appetite and insure tranquil rest, there is no surer and pleasanter means than the Bitters. The effects of overwork and exhaustion, mental or physical, are counteracted by it, and the busy merchant, the tired clerk or operative, and the brain weary student, author or newspaper man, derive from it present relief and future energy.

Devotion to principal led to the formation of the republican party. The best members of the party to day are those who believe with the pioneers that no quarter should be shown men who use the organization for purposes of plunder.

Strange Marriage Compact.

CANAL DOVER, Pa., Aug. 26.—Henry Renkert, accounted one of the most prosperous farmers of this county, made an assignment yesterday in favor of Valentine Wentz, who holds mortgages against him of about $8,000. Mr. Renkert's liabilities will aggregate something like $15,000, and his valuable farm, a portion of which was made a recent addition to the city, will more than pay off his indebtedness.

This failure calls to mind a most singular compact. Jacob Renkert and Jacob Spahlinger, friends from boyhood, were both married here long ago, both on the same day. It was agreed that their first born, if they were boy and girl, should marry. A daughter, Tina, was born to Spahlinger, and a boy, Henry, to Renkert. The children took a liking to one another. They were perfectly satisfied with the arrangements made for their union before they were born and were married. Mrs. Renkert died and Renkert has now a second wife. The old homestead, which he inherited, has been turned over to his creditors.

CASTORIA.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.

The way people eat and drink has perilous consequences. Very few people know how to treat their stomachs. Eating too much; or not enough; or the wrong kind of food; or at the wrong time—gets the digestive organs into such a thoroughly disordered condition that at last nothing whatever can be digested.

When the appetite fails and the liver becomes sluggish, the whole system is dragged down and deadened by imperfect nutrition. There is nothing in the world which restores organic tone and vigor so quickly and scientifically as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It acts directly upon the nutritive organism; it gives the stomach power to extract a high percentage of nourishment from the food, and enables the liver to filter all bilious poisons out of the circulation; it puts the red, vitalizing life-giving elements into the blood, and builds up solid flesh, muscular force and healthy nerve-power.

In all debilitated conditions and wasting diseases it is vastly superior to malt extracts or any mere temporary stimulants. It gives permanent strength. It is better than nauseous emulsions, because it is agreeable to the weakest stomachs.

Whenever constipation is one of the complicating causes of disease, the most perfect remedy is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which are always effective, yet absolutely mild and harmless. There never was any remedy invented which can take their place.

"In August, 1895, I was taken down with what my physician pronounced consumption," writes Ira D. Herring, of Needmore, Levy Co., Florida. "My trouble continued for several months. Four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me."

"Pretty Nearly."

The dreadful uncertainties of agriculture are graphically expressed in an incident reported from Kansas City. A somewhat ragged man, with an honest face and calloused hands, was charged in court with being a vagabond and having no visible means of support. The court questioned him closely.

"Where have you been recently?" he was asked.

"I've been out in central Nebraska for thirteen years," he answered.

"What have you been doing out there?"

"Working for a living."

"No quibbling, sir! Tell us exactly what you were doing in those thirteen years."

"Well, you honor, I was on a farm, and I raised thirteen crops—pretty nearly."

There was a world of pathos and experience in those last two words, and the fnfortunate man was discharged.

Poisoned Handling Money.

John W. Levergood, book-keeper for the Jersey Shore Banking company, is affected in a singular manner. Mr. Levergood, on Tuesday, opened a package of German currency, which were recently brought from that country. He counted the same and put it away that evening. The palms of Mr. Levergood's hands turned a peculiar shade of yellow. It was pronounced by the doctor to be poison, and Mr. Levergood is certain that he contracted the poison from the foreign notes. While this experience is a warning to the public, no one has yet been found who will refuse the "long green."

Believers in the Wooden-Nutmeg Legend.

Can say once more that time makes all things even. A stranger has appeared in Connecticut with a preparation warranted by him to keep flies and mosquitoes away from domestic animals. One package dissolved in ten quarts of water was said to be sufficient to protect twelve oxen or twenty-five horses. After the seller had disappeared the stuff was examined and found to be oak sawdust scented with camphor.

A Strike Ordered.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The general strike of the cloak makers of this city and vicinity, which had been threatened for a long time, has been ordered. More than 5,000 went out this afternoon.

The Potato's Triumph.

A prize offered by the Society of Arts for the best material for cleansing fabrics without discoloration or injury has been awarded to a preparation, of which the potato is the base. Two good sized potatoes are grated into a pint of water, strained through a coarse sieve into another vessel containing a pint of clear water, and allowed to stand until thoroughly settled, when the clear liquid is poured off and used to sponge materials, which are then washed in clean water, dried and ironed. The sediment can be used for cleaning carpets, etc.

May Come This Way.

A woman who stated that her name was Snyder called at the Lutheran parsonage Saturday and stated that she was from New Jersey, where they had their property destroyed by fire, and since her husband had secured work on the Pennsylvania railroad construction train and would live here. She stated further that her husband and herself were members of the Lutheran church and had written for their church letters which they intended to present to the church here. The children's clothes had been burned, she said, and before they could be sent to Sunday school others would have to be provided, but on account of lack of money were compelled to ask for aid, etc.

When confronted with the statement that the construction crew made their home at Osceola, she said that five of the crew were to live here in the future. Her story was not credited and it was found later that she had secured the names of the elders of the Presbyterian church and to them she made the same appeal, with the exception that she was to them a Presbyterian. We have not learned whether she procured any money. Such persons should not be received with too great credulity.—Clearfield Monitor.

Signs for Bicycle Riders.

To lend your wheel is a sign you will quarrel with a friend.

To read the advertisements of newly invented painless saddles is a sign you will die poor and despised.

To be chased by a yellow dog with a head like a cook stove and a mouth like a cellar presages a bad fall.

To puncture your tire ten miles from home is a sign that you will have a spavin on your off hind hoof.

To see a redheaded woman wearing green bloomers is a sign your rim will split unless you say "Kokalo" and throw a bale of hay over your left sholder.

Two Plucky Women.

Tuesday morning about 2:30 o'clock, while the storm was in progress in Williamsport, a burglar entered the house occupied by William Stutzman. Mrs. Stutzman and her sister were alone in the house. The bold burglar took off his shoes and socks and left them outside. He crashed the door in, the noise of which awakened the women. As he came up stairs Mrs. Stutzman grappled with him, while her sister began butting him on the head with a stick or something. They could not hold, however and the man made his escape. He left his hat behind, which the women secured. The police think that the intruder is a well known character in that city.

JAS. RINE TALKS.

Everybody Knows Him, Everybody Believes Him in Bellefonte.

As you lean back in your chair with your feet on the fender and peruse your evening paper, you must be amazed at the colums devoted to advertising patent medicine, the schemes employed to bring the remedies before the readers notice and the ingenuity displayed in wording testimonials so as to make them conform to the advertised claims. The tongue runs over a half column of introductory matter and then as a rule, winds up with the gist of some testimonial received from a sufferer of some malady. Read them carefully and notice this. Chicago and St. Louis examples do duty in New York. California residence flit before Maine citizens in regular succession like the connected scenes in a Panorama. It is not hard to endorse an act performed in some far away hamlet even if embellished with all the adjectives that the Anglo-Saxon language can furnish. Reverse the case and read the testimony of Mr. James Rine of No. 2 Thomas St. The impression left is convincing conclusive. Says he:—"My trouble in the back started from a slight strain. It developed into a urinary difficulty, the most marked being an excessive to urinate, particularly at night. My back hurt to stoop, to straighten up and if I made an awkward or unthought of move, I always got a reminder in the shape of a sharp, piercing twing. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for it at Green's pharmacy. They cured me. I am pleased at the result, for one year of it is as long as any man cares to stand for Kidney complaint.

The interesting event of to-day in political circles will be the republican state convention. It has a splendid opportunity to take a manly stand in favor of economy and honesty in the administration of the state government and on behalf of honest reform in the state civil service. William Shortlidge one of the delegates from this county will offer a series of resolutions in favor of reform and honesty in the administration of affairs. The convention will do well to give them careful consideration.

Cornelly is Guilty

one was shown him and he was asked if he wrote that letter to Ed. Rine? He admitted that he did. My home is in Rochester, N. Y. Previous to this time he worked for Perkins, the detective; he had worked for C. W. Cook, another detective. Gillespee denied that he was in the Electric Light station three times before the Armory fire. I was never arrested for larceny in Rochester, N. Y.; did not get Wm. Rogers to go to the Brant House and meet Vernes to try and make our evidence agree; work on a salary and it makes no difference how this case turns out.

H. C. Yerger, landlord of the Brant House, testified: I know A. W. Gillespee, as he boarded with me; Gillespee came in about 11 o'clock his room was next to mine; it sounded as if he changed clothes; he then went out; I heard the fire alarm about 2:00 o'clock that night; Gillespee came in about 4:00 o'clock and seemed greatly excited.

This evidence strongly corroborated Gillespee's. After this the Commonwealth rested.

Hugh S. Taylor made the opening speech for the defense. He said: We will put Cornelly on the stand and he will tell you, in his own language, where he was, how he was dressed, and what he did on that night, and his testimony will be corroborated by good, reliable witnesses from our own town. We will prove to you that Gillespee lied on the witness stand; that he is a man of bad character; that he is here trying to make a reputation for himself.

Ray Strunk called: Live between Nail Works and Lime Kilns; on the night of Electric Light fire I heard the alarm and met a man near the bridge at the Round House; I met a man running down the Central track; he was a tall man and was running away from the fire.

Cross examined by Mr. Reeder: It was a dark night; I came as soon as I heard the alarm; there were no lights along there; the fire company was there when I reached the fire; Morris' lime kilns are a little below where I saw the man; I told my parents and Will Rogers about seeing this man.

Court then adjourned until 1:30 in the afternoon.

Wednesday afternoon's session drew the usual large crowd to hear the proceedings in the now famous Cornelly arson case. Many ladies are in attendance and evince the greatest interest in the trial.

James Cornelly, the defendant, was the first witness of the afternoon. I live in Bellefonte; have resided here most all my life; had been living in the old McKnight house for two months prior to my arrest; I am a steam-fitter by occupation and employed by steam heat company; I did not set fire or aid anyone in firing the electric light works or the armory; I knew Frank Stewart, alias, A. W. Gillespee; He first came to Bellefonte on the 18th of April; I met him that day; Did not meet him at the lumber yard on the 19th of April; I was not drunk that day; worked for M. B. Garman cutting some sod; in the afternoon I stayed at home; was sick; did not meet Gillespee except in the morning; he offered me a drink and I refused; on the 24th I worked at Meeks, and on the 25th; Wednesday the 28th of April worked for John Bauer building a chicken coop; did not see Gillespee that day; did not have any conversation with him; I worked all day on the 28th building the coop; Jim McCauley assisted me; worked there on the 29th; cut sod on the 30th; never met Gillespee but twice while he was here; I always shunned him; called him my shadow; I was arrested on the evening of the 3rd of June. Gillespee was in the opposite cell; never had much conversation with him; always avoided him; on the day of the electric light fire was at home most all day; retired about 7 o'clock that night; woke up about 10:30 when the train on the new road came in; went into steam heat works; Cowher and Clark were there; I stayed there; about 5 minutes past 12 asked Cowher for some tobacco; then went back up to my room, laid down on my cot and was reading Shakespeare when the whistle blew; ran to the window and looked out; saw the fire and ran down stairs and down towards the works; when crossing Spring street the arc light went out; saw Cowher standing in front of the works; ran on down and saw Wm. Daley, watchman at Central station; asked him for the hose they used to put water in the engine; he said it was not there; passed Homer Barnes when I was coming up from the fire; heard the girls on Harper's porch; they were clapping their hands and making a commotion.

The armory fire occurred on the night of the 20th. He then gave an account of his movements on the day of this fire: Came home that night about 11 o'clock; was taken sick just as I was going in; reeled and fell; did not remember anything until the fire whistle blew; then ran out; was dazed and startled; discovered where the fire was and went over; there were several people there then; Pat Clark threw some water on fire and put it out. Cornelly seemed to be telling a very straight story.

Cross-examined. — Q. Where were you on the 25th of May? A. In Detective Vernes' room; made a a voluntary statement to him; he took it down in writing and I signed it; don't remember where I was on 10th or 7th of May; on the 3rd and 4th of May worked at sodding; only spoke to Gillespee twice between the 15th of April and the armory fire; admitted that he had been in jail before for receiving stolen goods; admitted breaking out of the Clinton county jail; admitted having been convicted of receiving stolen goods; when I reached the fire at the electric light station a tongue of flame was shooting out of the stock room window in a few minutes the roof fell in; saw Faxon come out; the armory fire took place on the 20th of May; had not been working that day; was drinking some; do not remember the exact time when I reached home but was pretty drunk; did not know anything more until I heard the alarm; when I ran out I hollered where is the fire? Someone said "There it is in front of you"; do not remember talking to Mr. Knisely about the electric light fire; did not tell him that as soon as I opened my window I hollered to Pat Toner that I will bet it was the electric light works.

Cornelly was on the stand an hour and a half; his main testimony was not shaken.

George Cunningham was then called. He is a Logan fireman; was at the hose house when the fire broke out at electric light house. He corroberated Cornelly's testimony as to someone having told them that there was no plug at the spring and Lamb street corner; thought it was Cornelly.

Wm. Daley called. I watch at the Central railroad depot; his testimony was partly corroberative of Cornelly's.

Pat Toner was next called. I live in the McKnight house; was there night of the electric light works fire; Cornelly also rooms there; I heard the alarm and ran to the window; Jimmy ran to the window also; he hollered it is your coal office; I ran down to look after the books in the coal office; did not see Cornelly again until after the fire; I was at the armory fire before Jimmy; I am a teamster in the employ of Burt Taylor; have charge of the office and coal yard.

Andy Toner called. On the night of the electric light fire I lived at the Cornelly house. This evidence corroberated Pat Toner and Cornelly in regard to electric light fire.

Chas. K. Kurt called. Reside in Bellefonte. Had a conversation with Faxon in regard to electric light fere. He said it was from five to ten minutes from the time he smelled smoke until he blew the whistle.

William Rogers was next called: I was firing at the Electric Light station on the night of the fire; was also employed there the night of the Armory fire; Gillespee came to the station that night about 12:15; he was back twice after that before he came in and gave the alarm; he was there about 15 minutes before the fire broke out; he had an old suit on with a slouch hat; he had been there three times on other nights. After Gillespee got out of jail, and on the Wednesday preceding the hearing, Gillespee came to my house and woke me and got me to go up to the Brant House to see Vernes; took me up to his room; talked to me for an hour and a half; Vernes said I ought to make my testimony agree with my fireman's, Dusendorf; did not say whether I would or not; worked at Electric Light works four years; we had two fires there to my recollection from the belt slipping and setting fire to the waste from friction.

On cross-examination he said that these two fires were not near the stock room, but were in the engine room. Am not employed at the works now.

John Bauer called: Know Jim Cornelly; he worked for me on the 28th of April; he was not intoxicated on that day; worked for me on the 29th.

This evidence flatly contradicted Detective Gilleepee when he said he got Cornelly drunk that day and got some damaging admissions from him.

James McCulley corroborated Bauer's testimony in regard to helping Bauer build a chicken coop on the 29th of April.

Samuel Solt testified: I have worked at P. Gray Meek's house for the past 9 months; Cornelly worked there some and took several meals there; it was when Gillespee was there.

John Trafford, Overseer of the Poor, said that on the night of the fire at the Armory I walked out home with Cornelly; left him at Hastings' house; he had been drinking freely.

John Caldwell called: Am a half-brother of James Cornelly; helped him sod at Mart Garman's house on the 19th and 20th; worked together all day; Jimmy was with me all day; he was not drinking.

On cross-examination he said Cornelly was cutting the sod out at the lime kilns Monday morning.

George R. Meek, of the Watchman, said Cornelly took meals at his house off and on for a month during April and May; did some sodding for him.

This testimony contradicts Gillespee's and corroborates Cornelly's.

Miss Winifred Meek, a daughter of P. Gray Meek, corroborated the testimony of her brother and Cornelly.

Walter Hampton called: Am an expressman and live in Bellefonte; hauled sod for Mart Garman; hauled four loads; Cornelly did the cutting.

Calvin Doubt, Chief of Police of Rochester, Pa., was called: Am acquainted with Gillespee; have known him for a long time; his reputation for truth and veracity is very bad.

He was severely cross-examined by Mr. Reeder. A good deal of malice cropped out in his testimony.

Joseph Welsh, of Rochester, Pa., called: Am acquainted with A. W. Gillespee; his reputation for truth and veracity is not very good; I know he is not truthful; am a glass-worker by occupation.

John W. Cable of Rochester, said: Have lived in that city for 38 years; have known Gillespee a long time; his reputation is bad. He offered the names of several citizens of his town who had expressed their opinion in the same direction, but the Court would not permit it.

The attorneys for the defense offered a letter written by Gillespee to Ed. Rine, but it was excluded by the Court. The defense then rested.

In rebuttal the prosecution called Engineer Faxon and John Knicely, who said that Cornelly told them that he had told Pat Toner, as soon as he looked out the window, that it was the Electric Light House that was on fire.

C. W. Cooke called: Am an officer of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie; have been traveling through there (Rochester) for the past 38 years.

As he did not live in Rochester his testimony as to Gillespee's character was excluded.

Robert Carr, of Rochester, said that he had known Gillespee ever since he was small and that his reputation for truth and veracity was good.

Samuel Black, attorney at law, of Rochester, said that he had known Gillespee for a long time; his reputation is good.

Capt. Reno, of Rochester, said he was 60 years old; had known Gillespee for many years; his reputation for truth and veracity was good; have lived near his father's for 20 years.

Officer Mullen testified to seeing Cornelly the night of the Armory fire near the Episcopal church about 11:30; he was not intoxicated that he could see.

Court then adjourned until 8:30 Friday morning.

FRIDAY'S SESSION.

This morning's session opened at 8:30. Ex-Judge Furst at once began to address the jury in behalf of the defendant. He paid a high tribute to the jury system, established over 900 years ago, and said he was here to see justice done this poor defendant. He said there was no large sum of money in it for him. For ten years, in the 49th Judicial district, I have set my seal against crime. Suppose your son was on trial here would you convict him on such flimsy evidence as is brought here, I ask any one of you gentlemen of the jury? Behind the prosecution is the wealth of the county and the state. The only evidence which the prosecution has is the testimony of the infamous Gillespee. The burden of proof lies with the prosecution. They must prove his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. The defendant is considered innocent and pure as the rays of the morning sun until you produce evidence that will implicate and confuse him. If there is a single doubt, a lingering doubt in your mind you must acquit him.

Did you ever hear of a man being convicted on suspicion? I ask the pardon of the jury for insulting their intelligence by asking such a question. There is nothing in suspicion. The Judge then gave an illustration from J. Fenimore Cooper's story of "The Spy," to show that a man should not be convicted on mere suspicion. Where is the evidence to show that the Electric Light station was set on fire? There is none, and there are lots of fires which are more mysterious than that and no one is ever arrested for them. Whenever there is a fire in this town everyone says I thought it was Jimmy Cornelly.

Judge Furst said, I believe the testimony of Jennie Harper and Lotta Spiglemyer when they say they saw a man they thought was Cornelly; but the evidence of Cowher, a witness for the prosecution, shows conclusively that it was he, and not Cornelly, that they saw. Cornelly's evidence as to his movements on the night of the fire is corroborated by Homer and William Barnes and George Cunningham, witnesses for the other side. The prosecution did not successfully contradict the defendant's testimony. Cornelly flatly contradicted the testimony of the detective, Gillespee, as to the interviews he held with him when he should have made the damaging admissions as to the Electric Light fire, and his testimony is corroborated by John Bauer, George R. Meek, Walter Hampton, John Caldwell and Miss Winifred Meek.

Judge Furst spoke for an hour and a half and made an eloquent and earnest appeal for the acquittal of Cornelly.

At five minutes past ten W. F. Reeder, Esq., arose and made the closing address for the prosecution. Mr. Reeder ridiculed the idea set forth by Judge Furst that Jimmy Cornelly had no friends or home. In the electric light fire we have the testimony of Miss Jennie Harper who heard the sound of breaking glass; that was before the whistle blew. We have the testimony of Emanuel Shope, Mame Butts, Lottie Spigelmyer, Jennie Harper and Homer Barnes to prove that Cornelly was there before the lights went out. Are you going to take their testimony or an interested party like the defendant's?

Cornelly's testimony is contradicted by Knisely and Faxon. Mr. Reeder showed that Cornelly had time to fire the electric light after he left Cowher and until the whistle blew. The testimony of James McCulley and Pat Toner contradicted the defendant's testimony. Walter Hampton and John Caldwell, all these witnesses for the defendant contradicting each other and Cornelly.

In the armory case Mr. Reeder said the testimony of Gillespee was corroberated by Dezendorf, Waddle, Lose and Rodgers. The evidence is conclusive that Jimmy Cornelly set the armory and electric light fire, When the courts can do without circumstantial evidence then we had better move out of the country. Our lives and property would not be safe. Judge Furst sentenced a man to be hung on purely circumstantial evidence when he was on the bench.

We need protection against the man who goes about at night and burns our barns, our stores, our business places and our homes. Reeder spoke an hour and a half and made a strong argument for the prosecution.

At 11:20 Judge Love began his charge to the jury. It was fair and impartial to both sides and was a clear and explicit laying down of the law.

At a quarter of twelve the jury retired and the court adjourned until quarter of two.

When court convened this afternoon the jury in the Cornelly case were ready with their verdict. They found the defendent "not guilty" of firing the electric light plant, but "guilty" of attempting to set fire to armory of Co. B. They were then discharged with the thanks of the court. The jury were out just two hours; they took four ballots on the electric light fire and six on the armory fire. On the first indictment it stood 11 for acquittal and 1 for conviction on the first ballot; on the second indictment (the armory fire) the first ballot stood 8 for conviction and 4 for acquittal.

A Wealthy Farmer Shot.

ASHLAND, Pa., August 27.—William Long, a wealthy farmer of Numenia, near here, was shot last night by a man whom he had detected trying to break into his barn. While Long, who had been attracted by the screeching of his chickens, was approaching the barn, a man stepped from behind a tree and shot at him, the bullet striking him in the forehead and passing out at the top of his head. The man made his escape and there is no clue to his identity. Long is seriously injured, but will recover.

Winber, a New Somerset County Town.

That is the name the Berwin-White Coal company has given to the new town which is being laid out about a mile south of Scalp Level. As is seen, it is Berwin, with the syllables transposed. The lots will soon be put upon the market under the agency of J. S. Cunningham, of Tyrone, and the company may erect a number of houses itself for tenant purposes, though it is understood it will encourage the men to buy their own homes. It anticipates many years' mining in the Scalp Level district and had to insure the Pennsylvania company a large weekly output for a considerable length of time before it would agree to build the branch from Lovett to Scalp.—Johnstown Tribune.

BUSINESS MEN VS. LAWYERS.

How the Former Nine Didn't Do a Thing to the Latter.

Well! Well! Well! Dem business men didn't do a ting to dem lawyers. Did them up brown to the tune of 19 to 14. But this is not to be the end, the lawyers say they will have revenge and are now trying to arrange a return game for next week. Three carloads of fun-loving people went down to Hecla Park on Tuesday, over the Central railroad of Pa., to see this game, and they were well repaid for their journey. While the game was not up to the League standard in the quality of ball played, yet there were many good plays made and it was full of snap and ginger and close enough to keep the interest and excitement up from start to finish.

The battery for the lawyers was Illingsworth and Quigley, and the way the reverend twirled the sphere would have made Amos Rusie turn green with envy. And our own "Quig" behind the bat! Well don't say he is a "has been" if you value your life.

At the beginning of the game Laurie occupied the box for the B. M.'s but it was an off day for Mac in the box as he couldn't hit a barn door let alone get the ball over the plate. In the 4th inning McGinley took his place and from that on pitched good steady ball. Shefler caught for the business men and played an out of sight game.

Bob Morris and Prof. Rutt umpired the game and gave pretty fair satisfaction.

But the Big four, the star players were on the lawyers' side. They were Will Gray, Ellis Orvis, Jack Dale and Harry Keller. To see these old timers chasing the leather was worth going miles. Dale and Gray especially covered themselves with glory and dust, mostly dust.

But joking aside, the game was highly interesting and entertaining and was enjoyed by spectators and players alike. Everybody went there expecting a good time and they certainly had it.

The following is the score in full:

LAID IN THE TOMB.

Miss Katie Lieb Laid to Rest This Morning Amid A Bed of Flowers.

On last Thursday morning at 7 o'clock the peaceful angel of death entered the home of Dr. Andrew Lieb at Bethlehem, and took from it, the spirit of Miss Kate J. Lieb.

Miss Lieb's home was formally in Bellefonte, after the death of her parents she and her brother David lived in the old home at the corner of Spring and Bishop street for many years when at last this same angel of death took him home to live through all eternity. The family circle was so broken that the old home was closed. For nearly a year Miss Kate made her home at the residence of Mr. F. Potts Green, she and the Miss Greens being very close friends. She then went to live with her brother Dr. Andrew, who lives in Bethlehem, she has been with him for over four years. Miss Kate's health had not been of the best for the last year or so, so she came to the Green home last fall in hopes of recovering it, which she did so, to a great extent while here though, she had a severe attack of the La Grippe she got a great deal better and started for her home some time in June accompanied by Miss Ella Levy who was with her when she died. We inquired of her brother Dr. Andrew Lieb. the real cause of Miss Kate's death and he said her heart was affected from the last attack of the La Grippe and death came from that. This life that has just ended was certainly a most beautiful one while during these many years she lived here she won many, many friends, she was a christian young lady in every respect and died in the faith of her Lord and Master.

Miss Kate J. Lieb was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lieb, both of whom died a number of years ago. She was born in Bellefonte, Centre county, Aug. 30, 1864, making her age 32 years, 11 months and 26 days. She leaves to mourn two brothers, Dr. Andrew Lieb, of Bethlehem, and Mitchell Lieb, of Bellefonte, and many dear friends.

The services were held Thurs. morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. F. Potts Green, on Linn street, conducted by Rev. Dr. Stevens, who spoke very beautifully of the departed one. A quartette, consisting of Misses Bessie Dorworth and Elsie Weaver and Messrs. Malcolm Laurie and Roy McCalmont, sang very beautifully "Saved by Grace" and "The Home of the Soul."

The floral tributes were grand; one very large cross from her brother Andrew covered half of the casket, and many beautiful bouquets of roses from her many friends.

Dr. Lieb and his brother Mitchell wishes to extend, through the REPUBLICAN, their warmest thanks to those who were so kind to them in this their sad bereavement.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Roy McCalmont, Woods Sebring, Harry Green, John Walker, Willis Scholl and William Brachbill.

Married.

Harmless Amusement.

A new "American Party" has just been launched in St. Louis by "a Detroit attorney and about fifty others." We know of no amusement more harmless than that of starting new parties.
